Socialist Chief in W. Germany Says Reds Aim at Peace

Ollenhauer Optimistic After 2-Hour Talk With Khrushchev

Berlin — West Germany's socialist chief, Erich Ollenhauer, met today with Nikita Khrushchev, then declared he thought the Russians would make every effort to solve the Berlin crisis without war.

Ollenhauer met for two hours with Khrushchev at the latter's invitation. Then the

Khrushchev Suggests Small Berlin Garrison

Berlin — Soviet Premier Khrushchev declared today he would agree to stationing a small protective military garrison in West Berlin if the western powers end their military occupation.

He said it could be made up of U.S., British, French and Soviet troops, or soldiers from neutral nations.

He told an East Berlin rally the Soviet Union has no objection to United Nations control of West Berlin if it were turned into a free city.

Macmillan and De Gaulle Meet

Prime Minister Starts Talks With Western Allies

Paris — British Prime Minister Macmillan today began a swing around the capitals of his major allies in search of a western policy to take into negotiations with the Russians.

Arriving in Paris to confer with President De Gaulle, Macmillan said he feels the Russians want to negotiate on Berlin.

"The Russians accept that these immediate problems—Berlin, Germany and so on—ought to be settled by negotiations," Macmillan said.

He conceded that there are wide differences between the west and the Soviets. He said in view of this, it is all the more important for the western allies to get together "to confirm our common policy and purpose."

The prime minister returns to London tomorrow night and flies Thursday to Bonn for talks with German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

On March 19 he argues the German view over the western views with President Eisenhower.

Ready to Negotiate

"I came away with the impression that the Soviets are ready to negotiate, want to do so quickly and are willing to have a thorough debate of concrete proposals from both sides," Ollenhauer said.

"Given good will on both sides, I am convinced that a peaceful solution can be found."

"My impression is that the Soviets are seeking a permanent solution of the German question."

The leader of West Germany's socialist party said he came away optimistic about the prospects of an east-west settlement after the meeting in the Russian embassy in East Berlin.

"I have the impression that on the Russian side all efforts will be made to solve the problem peacefully and to avoid a conflict," Ollenhauer told the news conference in West Berlin.

Oil Center Hit During Air Attack

BY TOM MASTERSON

Beirut, Lebanon — Iraqi nationalist rebels claimed today their army is marching on Baghdad to crush the communist-influenced government of Premier Abdel Karim Kassam.

Kassem's war planes bombed Mosul, a major oil center 220 miles northeast of Baghdad that is the seat of a revolt led by Col. Abdul Wahab Shawaf, apparently without decisive effect.

A war of words raged between Radio Mosul and Radio Baghdad. The smokescreen of propaganda veiled military movements, but showed bitterly the antagonisms between leftist followers of Kassem and military men who lean toward U.A.R. President Nasser's brand of Arab nationalism.

Conflicting aims and counterclaims alternated as the day advanced.

Radio Baghdad declared at

Baghdad Crowds Hail Announcement

Baghdad, Iraq — Crowds swarmed through the streets of Baghdad today celebrating a government announcement that insurrection in northern Iraq has been quelled.

"The government is in complete control," an official said. "Col. Abdul Wahab Shawaf was killed by his own men."

From every appearance in Baghdad, the government has no fear of the rebellion spreading this far. The few army units here do not seem to be on special alert. The curfew which has been in effect since the July revolution was lifted to permit observance of the Moslem Ramadan.

one time Shawaf was fleeing toward the Syrian border and offered $28,000 for him, dead or alive.

Later it reported he had been killed by his own men. This purported news, obviously aimed to dismay Shawaf's followers, was accompanied by reading of hundreds of messages pledging allegiance to Kassem.

Shawaf himself spoke over Radio Mosul to deny he was either fleeing or dead.

"We will keep fighting to the end, until we wipe out the corrupt regime and victory will be ours," he pledged.

He told the people not to be misled by Radio Baghdad's production of pro-Kassem messages and brushed off the air raid on Mosul.

"The government felt that the end is near," the colonel said. "That is why it tried, as a last measure, to bomb Mosul with the few planes whose

High Court Upholds Contempt Conviction

Washington — The supreme court today upheld the contempt conviction of Emanuel Brown, New York garment maker who refused to answer grand jury questions in an investigation of racketeering.

The 1957 grand jury inquiry had been spurred by the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel a year earlier.

Note to Weatherman: For Pete's Sake, Stop!

Wisconsin — Light snow flurries with little change in temperature. Highs today mostly in 30's, lows tonight in 20's. Partial clearing with snow ending Tuesday.

Appleton — Temperatures for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock: High, 32, low, 16. Temperature at 11 o'clock, 24. Northeast wind at 9 miles per hour. Barometer, 30.04 inches. Weather map on Page B-11. Sun sets at 5:51 p.m., rises Tuesday at 6:16 a.m.; moon sets at 6:23 p.m.

4½ Inches Added To Snow Blanket

Flurries Forecast as Fox Cities Continue Digging Out Operations

Four and a half inches were added to the Fox Cities snow blanket over the weekend as the area continued to dig out from Friday's storm. Light flurries were forecast today.

Most highways and streets are open and crews are working to widen the thoroughfares.

Appleton streets were reported 99 per cent open today, with 85 per cent of them wide enough for more than one car.

Yeoman Service

Yeoman service by the street and sanitation departments, augmented by help from Milwaukee, two private local contractors and five city aldermen, was credited today for the faster-than-expected work, Director of Public Works Duszynski said.

Parts of the street and sanitation department driver force, augmented by Street Supt. Reinhold Schulze and Ald. Pointer and Sonkowsky, manned 10 truck-plows from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday.

The full street department crew returned at 10 p.m. Saturday and worked until 8 a.m. Sunday. The result, said Duszynski, was accomplishment of about as much work as they could do with city equipment.

Milwaukee Equipment

The Milwaukee equipment, obtained through a request to Mayor Zeidler by Mayor Mitchell, worked in two sections from shortly after arrival about 7 p.m. Saturday. The equipment was scheduled to return to Milwaukee about 10:30 a.m. today.

Brentano Says German Unity Stays Big Issue

Bonn — West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano today rejected any plans for a military disengagement in Europe that do not provide at some point for solution of such political problems as German reunification.

The foreign minister told a foreign press luncheon there was an insoluble connection between plans for a disengagement and the political problems the move was supposed to solve.

The political problems, he added, must be discussed and brought closer to a solution in the course of negotiations on disengagement.

"One could imagine that a step-by-step plan is drawn up, but the political problems must not be excluded," he declared.

Biographies Of Candidates In Vote Story

Tuesday's primary election will decide which two of eight aspirants to the state supreme court will have their names on the election ballot in April.

Because of the importance of such a "run-off" primary in races where more than two candidates are involved, the Post-Crescent tonight presents the biographies of all court candidates. They will be found in a pre-election story on Page A-5.

Democrats Propose Easing Of U. S. Monetary Controls

Would Revise Other Programs; Republicans Hit Partisanship

Washington — Democratic members of the senate-house economic committee called today for easing of governmental monetary controls and revision of foreign aid, farm and other major government programs.

Republicans, criticizing what they called the "partisan political tone" of the report, generally supported

President Eisenhower's economic and fiscal policies.

The committee members split within as well as along party lines in their findings on the annual economic message Eisenhower sent to congress in January, long hearings on the message have been held since its submission.

Three Democratic house members, Reps. Wright Patman (Texas), Hale Boggs (La.) and Henry S. Reuss (Wis.), filed separate statements supplementing the majority report, prepared under direction of Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.).

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) differed with some portions of the principal minority report submitted by Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.).

Pointing to the millions of unemployed, the Democratic majority said a goal of maximum employment "should be given the highest priority."

But the Republicans said inflation offers the gravest

Democrats Ask Federal Aid for Depressed Areas

Washington — House Democrats today renewed their campaign to get federal aid for communities economically depressed by chronic unemployment.

Starting hearings, a house-subcommittee was told by Chairman Brent Spence (D-Ky.) that passage of a bill calling for more than $375 million in loans and grants is of "supreme importance to the economy of our country."

Walkout Hits Harlan County

Strike Caravan In Demonstration, Then Retires

Harlan, Ky. — Coal miners made one show of strength this morning and then retired in a downpour of rain as a United Mine Workers strike caravan settled over on Harlan county.

A caravan of 100 men in 34 cars drove from the mining community of Everts to the Highsplit mine, then returned to Everts and disbanded.

The situation was quiet. A few pickets were reported at the Highsplit and the Harlan Fuel company, but the Highsplit group joined the caravan as it passed.

The strike, affecting about 3,100 of Harlan county's 5,000 miners, began at midnight Saturday after last-minute negotiations failed to produce an agreement to a UMW contract by 26 independent operators.

The independents were not operating today, although they posted work notices. Some 200 small truck mines, which were not under the UMW contract, apparently were not working either.

Their empty coal-hauling trucks were parked outside silent homes throughout the southeastern Kentucky county.

Proxmire Again Attacks Johnson

Asserts Leadership Short Circuits Important Roles of Senate by Settling Key Issues Off the Floor

Washington —(U)— Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) hit again today at the Democratic senate leadership of Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas), saying it short circuited important roles of the senate by "settling issues off the floor."

Hammering away further on his theme that Democratic senators should have more of a role in determining the party's programs and policies, Proxmire said in a prepared senate speech:

"It is not enough for us to grope instinctively along even though we follow a man of great and proven political genius. We must know and we must insist that the American people know to whom we are responsible and where we are going."

Second In Series

He said his speech today was the second in a series on the subject and was "not intended in criticism or derogation of anyone."

Two weeks ago Proxmire delivered a senate speech criticizing "the decision of our leadership not to call caucuses in recent years of all Democrats for the purpose of determining a legislative program."

He continued that criticism today but contended, as he did after the first speech, that it was "not intended in criticism or derogation of anyone." Proxmire has praised the Texas leader as wise and fair.

Johnson was in Texas, reportedly recovering from influenza, at the time of Proxmire's first speech. Proxmire notified Johnson he planned to make his second speech on the matter today and suggested Johnson be present.

These Charges

Proxmire made these charges today:

"The invaluable deliberative and educational role of the senate has been short circuited by the leadership policy of settling issues off the floor."

"Democratic party policy in the senate is made on an ad-lib, off-the-cuff basis."

"The initiative as well as the final decision is almost always resolved by Johnson on the basis of his own judgment."

"Johnson's performance is 'brilliantly instinctive' but is not responsible to other Democratic senators or the party platform."

"Policy committees are not fulfilling their purposes."

"Democratic senate discussion in committee and on the senate floor has not been fully responsible because it has lacked any framework of over-all party responsibility."

"For all floor legislative purposes, the senate has spent a month doing nothing."

Asks Complete Report on Bribe Offers

Certain Kennedy Will be Asked for All the Details

Washington —(U)— Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.) said today he is sure chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy will be required to give the senate racke committee all the details of reported political bribe efforts.

Capehart, a member of the special committee investigating misdeeds in the labor-management field, referred to Kennedy's statement that he had received offers of political support for his brother if he would lay off witnesses summoned to testify.

Potential Candidate

Kennedy's brother, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), is regarded as a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

At a news conference in Milwaukee last Friday, Counsel Kennedy said the offers of political help came from representatives of both labor and management. No money was involved, he said.

Kennedy said he had paid no attention to the offers and had not reported them to Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), the committee chairman. He said he had discussed them with his brother, a member of the committee.

"There is no question that Sen. McClellan will insist that the committee be given all the details by its chief counsel," Capehart told reporters.

Earlier Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD), the committee's vice chairman, said "the whole nauseating affair should be fully explored and publicly exposed."

A closed-door meeting of the committee, scheduled last week, is to be held tomorrow. McClellan said members can bring up then "any business matters they think proper and of interest."

McClellan said, however, that "I know of no bribe being offered and I'm sure that if there had been, Mr. Kennedy would have reported it."

Former Nazi Leader Sentenced to Death

Erich Koch Found Guilty in Deaths Of 232,000 Persons in East Poland

Warsaw —(U)— Erich Koch was sentenced to death today for atrocities committed while he was Nazi leader of east Poland and western Russia in World War II.

The 64-year-old Nazi who held cabinet rank during the days of Adolf Hitler, had been on trial since last October. He denied his guilt and said he was not responsible for any of the 232,000 deaths charged against him by the prosecution.

Hear Verdict

Thronged tried to fight their way into the Warsaw provincial court to hear the verdict. The crush became so great that even the prosecutor could not get in until he provided proof of identity to one of the policemen on guard duty.

The trial began last Oct. 20. The prosecutor also accused him of causing the deaths of four million persons in western Russia, but he was not specifically tried here on that charge.

Koch was sentenced under terms of a decree of August, 1944, dealing with war crimes and crimes against humanity. The death penalty is mandatory for persons found guilty under this decree.

The former intimate collaborator of Hitler is the last of the Nazi leaders to be tried. He lolled in his brown leather chair today, an emaciated 95-pound shadow of his former self.

Went Underground

Koch went underground after the allied victory and was discovered in West Germany by British searchers in 1949. Following an extradition hearing, he was handed over to the Poles for trial.

Because of health problems, the trial was delayed almost 10 years.

Court sources said Koch would appeal and appeal hearings would probably take another year.

The crowd in the courtroom applauded wildly when the verdict was announced.

Sister of Heir Found Dead at Las Vegas Hotel

Las Vegas, Nev. —(U)— Clare Lorraine Manville, 63, off-married sister of Tommy Manville and heir to a $10 million asbestos fortune, was found dead last night in a Las Vegas resort hotel.

The coroner's office said the death Miss Manville was apparently from natural causes. An autopsy has been scheduled.

Miss Manville, who once starred in Broadway productions, had been married four times.

She and a companion, Miss Katy Goodfellow, checked into the hotel last Wednesday. Her body was found by a hotel clerk who became worried in the Limburi trading center, when she didn't answer the small cluster of Indian room phone. She was found stores which cater to tea clad in a nightgown, sprawled on a bed.

Except for reports of arson and intimidation in the Karong district to the far north, the protectorate was largely quiet.

Officials said the arrests followed looting and disorder in the Limburi trading center, when she didn't answer the small cluster of Indian room phone. She was found stores which cater to tea clad in a nightgown, sprawled on a bed.

Nyasaland Police in Effort to Put Halt To Looting, Sabotage

Blantyre, Nyasaland —(U)— Security forces arrested 60 Africans in the tea-growing Manje district of southern Nyasaland today in an effort to break up looting and sabotage.

Tea estates remained the chief seat of trouble on the seventh day of the state of emergency, declared to stamp out nationalist African violence.

Except for reports of arson and intimidation in the Karong district to the far north, the protectorate was largely quiet.

There were no details on the camera itself, or how it would perform, but it was learned that the project was M.P.H. to attain orbit.

Push Search For Missing Girl, 9

Spokane, Wash. —(U)— The search for a missing 9-year-old Campfire girl went into its fourth day today with hardly a trace to go on and a vow by a police inspector that we'll keep searching for her until we find out, one way or the other.

Police continued to check every phone call—there have been hundreds—offering a lead to the disappearance of Candice Elaine Rogers. The blue-eyed girl was last seen Friday after school when she set out to sell candy mints to raise money for her Campfire troop.

"We've checked everything, nothing tangible. It doesn't seem possible the child could have wandered to the river area by herself, especially to war deaving," said Inspector Robert B. Piper. "There is a chance she may have been picked up and taken to the area. There's no telling yet what happened."

River Dragged

The inspector was referring to an area along the Spokane river where six boxes of mints had been found. Police figure the girl started out with seven boxes.

Ground parties dragged the river for her yesterday after an exhaustive search in the area around the girl's home failed to turn up anything. But still no trace.

The same river claimed the lives of three airmen who took part in the search Saturday. Their helicopter apparently tangled in some power lines while making a low swoop of the area, then plunged into the deep water.

Democrats Again Call For More Spending to Build Military Forces

But Ike Tells Leaders of Both Parties Defenses are Adequate

Washington —(U)— Congressional Democrats are renewing their demands for stepped-up U. S. military power despite President Eisenhower's assurance no more is needed to meet the crisis over Berlin.

Eisenhower met Friday with senate and house leaders of both parties. He reportedly told them, in reply to their queries, that there is nothing he wants congress to do now to beef up U. S. military might. They said they were told the tools needed to deal with the threat to Berlin have been provided.

More Spending

But numerous Democrats spoke out during the week-end for more spending and greater military preparedness for longer range developments, even as they expressed hope that negotiations will settle the Berlin situation this summer.

Democratic leaders are going ahead quietly with plans to make available up to $750 million more than Eisenhower asked for intercontinental missiles.

While this step is being initiated in the house, a senate preparedness subcommittee, headed by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, will be engaged in a thorough-going reassessment of defense strength.

Halt Cutback

Out of these hearings, which start this week, may come recommendations to halt an ordered cutback in the army from 900,000 to 870,000 men and in the marine corps from 200,000 to 175,000 men by June 30.

Democrats who attended the White House conferences did not go as far as some of their party colleagues in open challenge to Eisenhower's assessment of military needs. Nevertheless, some of them said they feel the armed forces should be strengthened.

On the other side of the political fence, senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois said he is confident Eisenhower knows what he is doing.

"The president is not only alert to everything that is going on the military field but so is the defense establishment," Dirksen said. "I am confident of the adequacy of our forces under every circumstance."

Grant Linked With
Discovery of Strong
Reeds Near Fremont

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Because a Fremont businessman recognized the industrial possibilities of the tough-fibred grasses that grow in Waupaca county lowlands, the University of Wisconsin academic program is being enriched more than half a century later.

The University of Wisconsin regents have accepted an annual $1,000 Emil H. Steiger award for excellence in teaching by a faculty member. The award was presented by the late Mr. Steiger's daughter, Mrs. Sophia S. Roth and his son, Carl E. Steiger, both of Oshkosh. Carl Steiger is the vice president of the board of regents and the president of the Deltex Rug company founded by his father.

The award will be financed out of a gift of securities, with a present market value of $4,200. It is the third such teaching award to be made to the University in recent years.

The late Emil Steiger died in 1929, as one of the leading industrial managers of Oshkosh.

Early in life he was associated with a brother in lumber and cheese enterprises in Fremont, Waupaca county, after he grew up in Oshkosh.

During a walk through the country near Fremont around the turn of the century, he noted the tall grasses in the region, and their strength. He had the idea which led to the founding in 1902 of the Oshkosh Grass Matting company. The rugs sold well and in 1914 the name of the firm was changed to the Deltex Grass Rug company. It is now an affiliate of the Armstrong Cork company.

A grandson, William A. Steiger, who is the son of Regent and Mrs. Carl Steiger, is a junior at the university and vice president of the student government association.

moving in support of the rebellion and that the people of Baghdad, 50 miles due west of Baghdad, "have joined the blessed revolution and are marching with the army of Baghdad."

The premier was denounced as a traitor, oppressor and dictator. The people were urged to take up arms against Kassem, the general who headed the army revolt that toppled King Faisal's pro-western monarchy last July.

Asks For Support

"Join the revolution," urged the Mosul station, which calls itself the radio of the Iraqi republic. "Carry arms and shoot the traitors wherever they are. Do not let the traitors lure you because they are going to spread fear in the country and kill your young people and children. We are going to smash the opportunists."

There was a warning against foreign intervention. A rebel communique said "our movement is purely an internal one, concerning the Iraqi people alone."

Little information seeped out about affairs within Baghdad, but a report reaching Beirut described the situation as extremely dangerous for Americans and Europeans.

Hotels Lock Doors

A hotel catering to Europeans was reported to have locked and barred its doors, keeping about 40 persons inside.

Another report said Baghdad's streets were filled yesterday with armed groups and shooting was heard after disturbances were set off by a big pro-Nasser demonstration. Police were reported to have been unable to control the town, the scene of a blood bath last July.

A spokesman of the Iraqi Petroleum company said it had been unable to obtain any official word concerning the safety of its employees. The company has about 600 European and 11,000 to 12,000 Iraqis on the payroll in Iraq. The company, in which British, American, French and Dutch capital is represented, pumps a yearly average of 28 million tons of oil out of the northern fields.

Arab sources in Cairo said Shawaf is anti-communist, strongly nationalistic and a supporter of Arab solidarity. A description regarded there as putting him in the camp of the United Arab Republic's President Nasser.

He was reported to be 40 years old, married and the son of Sheik Abdel Malak Shawaf, a dignitary of the Sunni Moslem sect and a former mufti. Among his duties in the revolution last year was guarding of foreign diplomatic missions. He is reported to have criticized Kassem for delays in putting a land reform program into effect.

the West Berlin status, the liquidation of the occupation regime in West Berlin, the strengthening of peace and the security of Europe," the communique said. It added: "There was agreement on both parts that the various problems have to be solved the peaceful way through negotiations."

After the meeting Khrushchev stood on the doorstep and waved as Ollenhauer was driven away to West Berlin. The Soviet premier shouted over and over again in German: "Freundschaft, freundschaft, freundschaft," — friendship, friendship, friendship," — the slogan he has been using throughout his visit to East Germany.

Adenauer Informed

Several hundred East Berliners outside the embassy took up the friendship chant.

They also applauded Ollenhauer warmly with rhythmic handclapping.

There was no comment as yet from West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on the Khrushchev-Ollenhauer meeting. But the West German foreign office confirmed that Ollenhauer had informed it of the meeting in advance.

Some newspapers accused the socialist chieftain of "making foreign policy on his own." Others said something constructive might come out of the conference.

There were charges also that Khrushchev was trying to use socialists as a pawn to weaken the western front shielding Berlin.

At his news conference, Ollenhauer emphasized he had not entered into negotiations in any way with the Soviet premier.

He said it would be improper for the leader of the opposition to intervene in what was the business of the government.

He added he regarded it as his duty to sound out what were the opinions of the major powers in the German dispute. Ollenhauer said there was no mention of West Germany surrendering its membership in the Atlantic pact as the price for reunification.

He said the possibility of direct negotiations between East and West Germans—the Soviet plan for confederation of the two states — was not discussed.

Ollenhauer declined to give details of his conference with Khrushchev. He said he called the news conference because of "various allegations."

He was referring to newspaper comment.

There were varying reports on affairs within Baghdad. A report to Beirut said there were disturbances in Baghdad streets yesterday in connection with a big pro-Nasser demonstration. On the other hand, a traveler reaching Cairo from Baghdad said there had been pro-communist and pro-Kassem demonstrations. He said the situation was very tense.

News Agency Closed

Egypt's Middle East News agency announced that the Iraqi military governor general, Brig. Ahmed Saleh Elabdi, had issued an order closing its offices in Baghdad without giving a reason.

Shawaf's word to the Iraqi people was: "I will stay and the brave Iraqi army is determined to free you from opportunism and misrule. . . . I shall fight until Kassem's insane dictatorship is crushed. . . . taken to a restaurant for food and a hotel for lodging, they started work about 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

One team worked until 5 a. m. Sunday, the other to about 9 a. m. Sunday. They returned to the job about 3 p. m. and 4 p. m., respectively, and carried on until about 11 p. m. Sunday.

The Sno-Go was forced to undergo repairs earlier on E Glendale avenue when a chunk of concrete in the roadway, probably from a nearby building project, was caught up in the rotary blades. The machine then hit some concrete it couldn't survive about 3:30 a. m. today. It was damaged extensively, Duszynski said, but there is no estimate of the cost. The blades and drive shaft were bent beyond repair possibilities here, he said.

The concrete which caused the damage was placed in the city street right-of-way by a property owner who wanted to dress up his S. Oneida street driveway, Duszynski said.

Duszynski said Milwaukee will submit a bill for services of its equipment, salaries of its men and the damages.

Besides the help of the Milwaukee equipment, the city force was augmented by two big caterpillars with bulldozer blades, furnished by Concrete Pipe Corporation, and a 4-wheel drive front-end loader with plow, furnished by Landwehr and Hackl.

The Concrete Pipe equipment worked a total of about 30 hours Saturday and Sunday and the Landwehr and Hackl loader and plow off and on from Thursday through today, Duszynski said.

Snow Removal
With street plowing work as complete as equipment could make it by Sunday morning, the department turned to snow removal work on College avenue. Work began about midnight Saturday and continued to about 10 a. m. Sunday.

The same crew started removal work on Wisconsin avenue at midnight Sunday and was still at it through late this morning.

Tuesday, Duszynski said, the snow removal work would move to the side streets off College avenue.

Only two minor accidents with equipment were reported. In one case, a truck plow struck from behind a stopped car at red light and, in another, a plow backed into a pickup will be in District 2, between Morrison and Locust streets, north of the Fox river.

Trucks Break Down
Heavy equipment will have to be used because the county's light trucks have been breaking down in the huge drifts, he said.

Most county trucks still are slippery, Brownson warned motorists.

There were 13 accidents in Outagamie county, including Appleton, over the weekend.

Calumet, Waupaca and Winnebago counties reported most of their roads open.

Another plea to clear snow from fire hydrants went out today to Appleton householders from Fire Chief Neumann.

Can't See Hydrants
"Our daily tour of the city to pinpoint streets which were closed," he said, "shows it is impossible to see some hydrants."

Appleton water department crewmen, charged with clearing of the fire hydrants, have had between two and five trucks, two men to the truck, clearing hydrants in 9-hour shifts during daylight hours since Friday morning. They were continuing today.

The deadline for entries in the contest to name the city's first municipal youth center was extended to Thursday of this week because of cancellation of last Thursday's center opening. Recreation Director Elmer W. Grover said.

The center will be open Tuesday night at Reid Municipal Golf course clubhouse.

Garbage Pickup
Garbage and rubbish pickup will resume regular schedules, starting today, Appleton Deputy City Health Officer Claude N. Greisch said.

The Wednesday rubbish pickup will be in District 2, between Morrison and Locust streets, north of the Fox river.

Garbage pickup will not be made unless the receptacles are at the curb or a path to their location off the curb is shoveled out, Greisch said.

Area dairies had some difficulties getting through to farms to pick up milk because of the storm.

Farm driveways were beginning to be opened and deliveries to homes and supermarkets in the Fox Cities were getting back to normal today.

Finds Trouble
A town of Menasha dairy reported it ran into trouble making milk pickups at the farms and had to deliver its Friday load Saturday and its Saturday load Sunday.

The dairy said 75 per cent of its Friday milk collections couldn't be made and one farmer was still not reached by this morning.

A Neenah dairy, which has milk brought in by private contract carriers from as far as 40 miles away, received only 10 per cent of its normal intake Friday. Collections were made Saturday, with some of the milk brought to the plant by horse and sleighs and some by tractors.

Can't Reach Farms
Several Appleton dairies also reported a dropoff in pickups and deliveries.

All had difficulty getting to farms Friday. One dairy suspended deliveries for two days because of the storm and said that it will take a couple of more days to catch up.

Some worked overtime to keep supermarkets stocked. Most reported difficulty in making home deliveries because of unplowed walks and streets.

Cautioning against what they called "the continuing erosion of the value of our money," they said the government should not itself provide jobs for the unemployed in a period of prosperity.

The Democratic report said the annual growth in production should be about 3 per cent, measured in gross national output, and added that the growth had been below this average in recent years.

The Democratic majority said "restrictive monetary and credit" policies would discourage employment and injure state and local governments as well as small business.

It urged liberal federal programs for research and development, aid to education, depressed areas, slum clearance and development of national resources.

It questioned adequacy of the new proposed $41 billion defense budget and protestation should "rethink our manpower cutbacks in the army and marine corps."

And it suggested revamping farm

Humphrey Says Ike Has Little Concern of War

Milwaukee — Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., Saturday night accused the Eisenhower administration of being "more concerned over inflation than it is over world conflagration."

Humphrey, regarded as a possible candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination next year, was the featured speaker at a dinner winding up a 13-state meeting of midwest Democrats.

"We need some guided missiles to the minds and hearts of men," he said. "This world will not be saved by missiles of war with thermonuclear warheads."

The Minnesota Democrat said his party is determined to produce a program of constructive action in congress and elsewhere on which to produce the campaigns of 1960.

Shotgun Blast Kills Dealer

Gangland-Type Killing Probed In Tampa, Fla.

Tampa, Fla. — (AP) — The single blast of a 12-gauge shotgun brought death today to a prominent produce dealer as he stepped from a car in the driveway of his home.

Bennie Lazzara, 51, died shortly after midnight of buckshot wounds in the brain and heart.

Police said they found no motive for the killing, closely resembling several of the 19 unsolved gangland-style murders in Tampa since 1931.

Winter Haven police arrested two men for questioning four hours after the murder. Officers said a car one of the men had been driving answered the general description of that used in the getaway.

Returned from Visit
State Atty. James M. McEwen said the shooting occurred as Lazzara and his wife got out of their car after an evening visit with friends.

Detective Sgt. Norman Brown said police had no evidence to connect Lazzara with gangland activities.

The slaying came on the heels of strong denials by city officials of a statement made in congress that Tampa has one of the worst crime records in the nation.

Anti-Mafia Bill
U. S. Rep. William C. Cramer of St. Petersburg listed Tampa among cities with heavy crime rates when he introduced an anti-Mafia bill aimed at curbing terrorist conspiracies.

The killing of Lazzara came eight months after the gangland style murder of Joe Doaz, a numbers game racketeer and former sheriff's deputy.

The Improvising Democrats

It was only a few years ago that Democratic minority politicians at the capitol were rendering the air blue with their smoking rage about what they called the dishonest fund raiding and improvisations of the Republicans in their search for budget-balancing expedients.

Such tactics were deceptive, and dishonest and fraudulent and everything else evil that the fertile vocabularies of the anxious Democratic liberals could describe.

But now the tables in state politics have turned, and the Democrats are frantically searching for expedients to make ends meet in the state budget. Now departmental witnesses before the budget committee are being asked carefully whether this fund and that is really needed, and whether it cannot be turned into spending money for the general fund. Now the Democrats are devising the most daring expedient of all — an income tax withholding law, for the transparent purpose of hastening state tax payments.

There is little virtue in the idea of withholding — which has now been endorsed by Gov. Nelson and his legislative Democratic lieutenants in all but name — that is as persuasive as the fact that it will provide an eagerly sought "windfall" of revenues for the hungry Madison exchequer.

The governor's press agents are now getting out straight-faced bulletins about how withholding will catch some of the tax dodgers. But it is strange that Mr. Nelson during 10 years in the legislature never thought of that. It is even more strange that no legislator, or tax commissioner, or professor of economics, or governor in more than 40 years since the state has had an income tax law has thought of that. Were tax dodgers born yesterday? Or is this an excuse to cover the real purpose of this anxious movement for a tax windfall?

It is perfectly obvious what is going on. This is political expediency of the most patent sort. These politicians are not worrying about tax avoidance or "slippage," as they ingeniously label it. They are concerned about moving up the tax calendar by a full year, so that they can spend more without the appearance of taxing more.

Gov. Nelson with some asperity says this won't cost the taxpayer any more money. It won't, in the course of his lifetime. But the effect of tax withholding, and its transparent purpose, is to collect in 1960, for example, the taxes due for 1959 earnings, at the same time that the treasury is collecting on 1960 earnings on a current basis. As far as the taxpayer will be concerned, that will be paying twice, whatever semantical exercises are going on at Madison.

Improvisations? Shades of the impassioned Democratic orators who held forth in the capitol when Republicans were fashioning budgets in 1953 and 1955 and 1957!

Congressmen Explain Their Payrolls

Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski, (R. Wis.) says he would be glad to take his wife off of his payroll and open up this job to a good secretary at $10,565 a year if he could find one only half as qualified as his wife.

There is nothing wrong about a congressman employing his wife as a secretary. And as Rep. O'Konski says, very often the wife is the best secretary a congressman could hire. She is familiar with all the details of the office, she is well acquainted back in the district, she knows the problems of the people and knows what can be done about them. Thus we'll go along with Mr. O'Konski when he says his wife is the best secretary he could find.

But he says that he's been "losing money" while serving in congress. His story is that it cost him $6,000 to keep his office going last year. We can't buy that. The congressional office has been very good to Mr. O'Konski and he has used every possible political trick he knows to hang onto it. Many other congressmen like to intimate that they could do better elsewhere but it is pretty obvious that the great majority of congressmen are well paid for their work in Washington. And we think Mr. O'Konski is well within that group.

The Impotence of France

No matter how friendly the new French government is to the other European countries, no matter how it bends over backward to cut the value of the franc, and how much reasonable power is put into the hands of President De Gaulle by the new constitution, France is a liability until it solves its desperate problem in Algeria. The repercussions of that brutal and seemingly hopeless struggle sound around the world.

The little kingdom of Laos, a signatory to the Geneva accords and a former member of the now defunct French Union, needs financial and military help. On the north looms the pressure of Red China. To the south is Communist North Viet Nam. Inside its borders are communist and plain bandits although the Red Pathet Lao has officially capitulated and been brought into the government.

According to the Geneva accords, no military personnel except French was to be allowed in Laos. American money has helped to purchase arms and ammunition, but there are only 200 Frenchmen trying to carry out the training program and many of them are in administrative positions. The accords said that 3,500 Frenchmen could maintain the garrison at Seno, but there are only 750. As a member of the South Asia Treaty Organization, France needs more men in the area or Laos should become an independent member of SEATO and allow other peoples to help train the army.

The Laotian government has renounced the Geneva accords on the grounds that all the original provisions have been fulfilled so they no longer are applicable. This is, in truth, mainly opening the door to aid from other countries since that from France has proved to be so unreliable.

And, until the main body of French fighting men can leave Algeria, any military aid in any part of the world from France can not be counted upon.

Milwaukee Journal Charged With 'Knifing' Candidate

From the Wauwatosa News Times

We had not intended to make any comment about the March 10 judicial election, but Sunday's editorial slight of a Wauwatosa man by The Milwaukee Journal cannot be allowed to go unanswered.

In one of the most diabolically clever editorial knifings we have ever seen, The Journal makes it appear to the casual reader of its editorial that only two candidates, Bruno Bitter and Stewart Honeck "have the professional stature and judicial caliber" to merit support. The "other five" candidates simply are not qualified, says The Journal. The same of Justice E. Harold Hallows of Wauwatosa (the eighth candidate) is not mentioned once in the editorial. At one point, he is called "an able appointee"; at another point, he is called "the incumbent", but because his name is not mentioned, many readers probably assumed The Journal included him in "the other five" who are not "really fit or qualified."

We agree that Honeck is a very able candidate; we disagree on Bitter, although he is the type of candidate The Journal would support. But not to mention Justice Hallows by name in the editorial is an injustice that really concerns us, and it was too obviously done by The Journal to have been unintentional. That it was done in Sunday's paper, which reaches more voters than any other issue, was no accident.

On April 3, 1958, when Harold Hallows was appointed to the state supreme court, The Milwaukee Journal editorially said: "Recognition with a place on the high court is unusually fitting in Mr. Hallows' case. For it is he who has been at the forefront of the movement during the last decade to improve the system of justice in Wisconsin. In zeal and effectiveness, he was the biggest single contributor to the institution of the state judicial council and of the judicial retirement laws. His third great effort, for a reorganization of the courts, has yet to succeed. The appointment is not so much a reward for, as a consummation of this service. Professionally also, the appointment is sure to be accepted as a sound one by those who know. Mr. Hallows' competence as a practitioner has many times been formally recognized within the legal profession, in the community, in the state and nationally."

At that time, The Journal also said that naming justices by a governor is "more likely to be conscientious and well advised than that of the electorate." That certainly is true, if the Wisconsin electorate is misinformed about candidates by the state's largest newspaper!

"Peace! Separate Peace! Piece by Piece!"

People of the World Speak Estimated 2,796 Languages

From "One Language for the World," by Mario Pei. Copyright, 1958.

There are in spoken use throughout the world today, according to our most reliable linguists, 2,796 separate languages, exclusive of dialects. This is far more than any man could master in a hundred lifetimes.

It is quite true that the majority of these languages belong to small groups, numbering fewer than a million speakers and having little practical importance. But even after we have assigned over two thousand tongues to North and South American Indian tribes, African Negro groups, clans of Australian and Papuan aborigines, and sparse populations of remote Asiatic regions and south Pacific islands, we are still faced with over a hundred languages used by large and civilized groups, numbering from one million to five hundred million people, and living in continents and countries with which we have broad contacts. Millions of them have come, are coming or will come to our shores.

Millions of us have travelled or will travel to the lands where these languages are spoken. The products of their culture, their spoken, written, radioed, televised words, are forever with us, in international discussions, in books, magazines, and newspapers, in science and commerce and advertising. There is now almost no way to avoid them, and as time and the swift march of modern technological progress advance, there will be even less.

There are big, well-known, widely studied languages that range far beyond their homelands, like English, French and Spanish. There are medium-sized tongues like Polish, Dutch and Tamil, that are spoken by populations in the tens of millions. There are smaller tongues, like Danish, Hungarian, modern Greek, and the Singhalese of Ceylon, which may not reach ten million speakers, but are the regular medium of linguistic exchange in their own well-defined areas. It is conceivable that any of us, individually, may come in contact with any one of them, and with dozens of others besides. The possibility of such contact, once quite remote, is now commonplace, and if present trends continue will become far more extensive.

In the Western Hemisphere alone, disregarding the American Indian languages, which are over a thousand in number, and of which some, like the Quichua of Peru and the Nahuatl of Mexico, have millions of speakers, we find four widely spoken languages. These are the English of the United States and Canada, the Portuguese of Brazil, the Spanish of a score of nations ranging in population from Mexico's 30 million and Argentina's 20 million to the 900,000 of Panama, and the French of Quebec, Haiti, French Guiana, and some insular French possessions — not to mention the Dutch of Surinam and the Danish of Greenland.

Favors Partisan City Elections

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of March 13, 1880.

Years ago, the City of Appleton tried the experiment of bringing out candidates for Municipal Office irrespective of party. The result was not gratifying to anybody, the effect being to create personal feuds and bitterness which often affected public measures unfavorably.

It has come to be understood that when the Democrats and Republicans present candidates for City Offices, as a rule better selections are made, and when injudicious selections are made "scratching" will generally correct a blunder.

Legislators Curious About Education Costs

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — State legislators are getting curious about the implications of the trends in higher education in Wisconsin, and when legislators get curious the bureaucracy tends to become worried.

There was some frank puzzlement on the faces of the high-ranking officers of the state colleges and the University of Wisconsin at the drift of interrogation when the huge budget of the schools came under review before the legislative finance committee.

This committee has not been especially ingenious in auditing state expenditures but the questioning of the college and university heads was as thoughtful and persistent as most of them have experienced in their lives. It may very well be that some new ideas are fermenting in the legislative branch that will involve these vital and very costly state services.

EXAMPLES

There was talk about admissions policy, performance requirements for students, more effective utilization of staff and plant through a year-around instruction program of three semesters rather than two, and the relation of the student and the taxpayer, with respect to the liability for paying for these growing costs of higher education.

Again, there was some reflective interrogation about the tendency of college and university teachers to compare their earnings for a shorter work year with their contemporaries who work for a longer part of the year.

Finally, there were abundant hints that the legislature may try to "hold the line" even more firmly than did Gov. Nelson, who plainly offended many of his friends in academic circles by trimming their spending requests so severely.

Now whether all of this curiosity means anything remains to be seen, as the cautious politician would put it. It is worth noting for the record, however, that it is something of a novelty. Higher education has had an easy time of it in budget making for a long time. Many times listening legislators appeared to be so impressed with the prestigious witnesses that they seemed reluctant or afraid to question them. Most of the time the appropriations resulting were generous, by any fair estimate.

Some of these men now must be ruefully recalling what they heard the politicians saying during recent campaigns, including those speeches of Democrats accusing the Republicans of being niggardly toward higher education. For the hints in this budget committee room were bleak. At one point Assemblyman Riehle, a Marathon county farmer, blurted with disconcerting candor:

"How can I vote for these higher salaries when our farmers are going to get another cut in their milk prices?" Whatever the professors think of their pay scales, the salaries obviously look pretty good to this lawmaker.

THE IDEA

It is apparent that a worry of some lay observers about the portents of the higher education budgets is seeping into the legislature, too.

Can the Wisconsin tax system seriously pretend to support a program that is advertised to double in cost during the next 10 to 15 years?

Is the general taxpayer, who has not had the benefit of college, obligated to provide college training for everyone who knocks at the portals, or is the immediate beneficiary obligated to pay more out of his own purse — even if he must borrow the money as he now borrows for the automobile? Is the idea of higher education, in its true meaning, compatible with the liberal admission requirements of today, which have brought almost as many students into college classrooms as were counted in the high schools a generation ago?

Judges Need More Power In Courtroom

From the Christian Science Monitor

In Buffalo, N. Y., Justice John F. Dwyer surprised himself by rising from the bench of the state supreme court and shouting, "I object!" Judge Dwyer took office only six weeks ago, and the habits of many years as trial lawyer and district attorney were still strong.

Yet well might Justice Dwyer and many another American jurist register with deep fervor their objection to a trend that has shorn American judges of much of their influence and usefulness within their own courts.

Contrary to the authority of judges in many other lands, the presiding officer in most American trial courts is merely a referee between contending attorneys, not an officer in charge of a search for justice and fact. By statute in most states he is prohibited from assisting the jury by comment on the evidence. He does not have, as was once the case, principal control over the selection of the jury. His instructions to the jury usually are compiled from forms submitted by the attorneys. Often the legislature has taken over writing the rules of procedure.

The same century or more which has seen judges cribbed about with these restrictions has seen also a growth of popular election rather than appointment of judges. This makes for uncertain tenure and for some disregard of professional qualifications.

The American judge needs to be restored to a position of greater dignity and authority in his own courtroom. Citizens should object to political systems of selection which cannot trust the judges they produce.

SAC Policy Called Case of 'Pound Foolishness'

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

Washington — Vivid impressions, sometimes painfully vivid impressions, are the result of first hand experience. Such impressions were the result of a visit to the Strategic Air Command. Two stand out.

On the one hand, anyone visiting SAC is bound to be impressed by the sheer magnitude of this great force. But, any sharp-eyed visitor is also bound to be struck by the risks our national policy-makers have been smugly taking in these last years.

Another report has described the greatest and most inexcusable of these risks—failure to mount an air-borne alert of SAC while we have a zero warning of a potential Soviet missile-strike. It is surprising that the quality of SAC has not already been impaired. Quality suffers when a force is simultaneously burdened with an almost unbearable responsibility, and denied the means for carrying this responsibility with the assurance of success.

The moment when SAC's responsibility became all but unbearable was late autumn of 1953, when the Eisenhower administration decided that a balanced defense would cost too much. The new look that was then taken, subsequent to the follies and insufficiencies of the missile programs, it is only necessary to look at an allegedly bombproof shelter, which is not proof against the only kind of bomb that is likely to drop on it.

Even more important, there is the grave problem of the B-47s. These medium-range jet bombers still constitute more than two-thirds of the entire SAC force. Some command post where SAC's vital brains are located. It was built when the power of H-bombs was already well-known, but the plans had been prepared in the A-bomb era. With his customary inflexible wisdom, former Sec. of Defense Charles E. Wilson would not approve the extra expenditure to give hardness against H-bombs. Thus SAC's brains are now contained in an allegedly bombproof shelter, which is not proof against the only kind of bomb that is likely to drop on it.

Even more important, there is the grave problem of the B-47s. These medium-range jet bombers still constitute more than two-thirds of the entire SAC force. Some give them the best chance of penetrating enemy defenses and getting away again. Dependence on the KC-97s increases the peril of the crews and reduces their chances of success.

The superb new jet-tanker, the KC-135, would almost completely overcome the B-47s' difficulties. The Pentagon has only to raise a finger to double current KC-135 production, but no finger has been raised. Thus the B-47 crews are being denied what they urgently need to do their job. Their awe-inspiring job remains unchanged. It is difficult to understand the psychology or even the morality of the men responsible for this sort of decision.

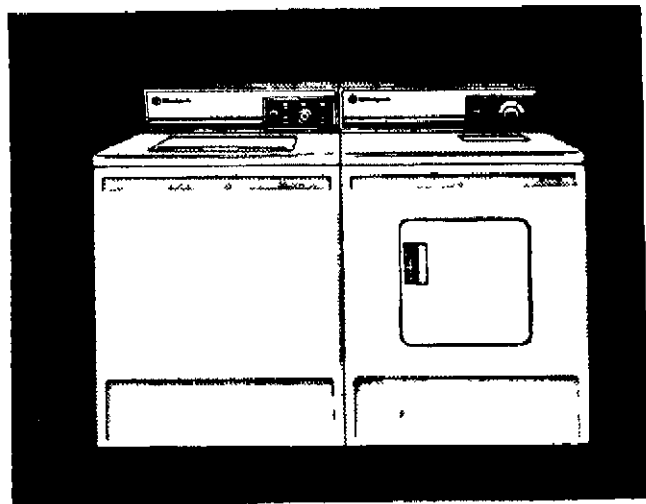

The examples are not exceptional. They are typical. They do not necessarily mean, thank God, that SAC cannot perform its assigned task. But they most certainly mean that the administration has not done everything possible to insure the fullest effectiveness of the great deterrent on which all American policy depends. Even today, when our danger is so apparent, everything possible is still not being done. A clearer re-proof of penny wisdom and pound foolishness could hardly be imagined.

Lawrence Says: Payrolls of Congressmen Need Checking

Conflict of Interest
Cases Stir Demand
For Investigation

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—Integrity transcends every other issue with the American people. They resent any misuse of their money by public officials and usually defeat at the polls any candidate who is mixed up with what they believe to be a Lawrence public scandal.

This past week the Democratic party got a black eye with the American people. Stories telling how newly elected members of congress put their relatives on the public payroll, irrespective of their qualifications, were spread on many front pages from coast to coast. One member rented the front porch of his own house back home and charged the government for it.

This same Democratic majority in congress frowned on Sherman Adams because he accepted a gift of hotel lodgings and a vicuna coat—not paid for by any public funds—even though he did no more than write routine letters of inquiry to governmental agencies about the cases of the donor in question.

People's Money Misused But today it is the people's money which is being misused. From all appearances, the Democratic-controlled congress isn't going to do anything about it, not even set up a special committee to investigate all such cases and pronounce judgment.

There are abuses which approach scandal in the present system. A member of congress can hire as temporary aides for $60 or $75 a month any of his constituents for the period just before election.

This means that some members could put on as many as 150 personal workers at government expense during a campaign. Now many members did this in the last campaign? The public has a right to know. Wasn't this, after all, a campaign contribution made with public money?

Old Custom

Putting relatives on the payroll is an old custom. In some instances employees have been qualified, as in the case of wives who had previously served in a secretarial capacity. But who is to be the judge? Who represents the public interest in deciding those cases on their merits? Since no machinery exists through committees of congress for passing on such cases, it is natural for the public to accept the inferences being made in the press.

Basically, the American people are sensitive to scandal in public office. The scandals during the Truman administration helped to defeat the Democrats in 1952. In recent months the Democrats have been trying to pin the corruption label on the Republicans by emphasizing the Sherman Adams episode, though there has never been uncovered the slightest proof of corruption on his part. He himself admitted he had been imprudent because he had not looked a gift horse in the mouth.

Evidence Plain

But in the recent cases the evidence is plain enough to see. Some members of congress have put relatives on the payroll as office assistants at salaries ranging from $6,000 to $11,000 a year. Do these employees give full time to their work? How much of this money is a gift of public funds? To whom should members of congress be accountable on such things?

Democrats who are so quick to denounce any conflict of interest on the part of officials in the executive branch of the government have done nothing to ferret out the facts about the use of public funds for campaign purposes when temporary employees in large numbers are put on the payroll of members of congress. Nor has any inquiry been made as to the conflict of interests in those cases where members of congress have been financed by labor-union groups. Still feel they have a right to cast a vote on pending labor legislation.

An inquiry by congress into its own household affairs has long been overdue. Unless soon begun, the cry will be come nation-wide that people in glass houses shouldn't throw stones, and congress will be handicapped as it faces its duty to investigate any conflict of interest cases happening outside as well as inside congressional offices.

Charlie Starts Sleuthing Again, This Time in Sugar Bush Country

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Past-Crescent Staff Writer

Sugarbush—Today's mystery — let's call it the Sugar Bush Gambit — evolves on this small Belgian settlement which has excited the interest of neither mapmakers nor historians. Only the passerby attends to its pretty name.

Sugar Bush does not appear on the official state map; it is not listed in the official Wisconsin Blue book; it is not considered nor discussed in any standard Wisconsin historical works.

Yet, there it stands — 75 families strong — on County Trunk P, near Luxemburg, in Brown county between Highways 29 and 57.

Problem: How old is Sugar Bush? Who was its first settler? The good people of the community would like to hold a centennial; they believe its hundredth year is approaching. But when?

Here are the available facts: Sugar Bush does not exist officially. It is not a village, nor a city nor a town in itself. It is a gathering together of a store, two taverns, a handful of houses and a church.

Sugar Bush is in the town of Humboldt and is served by the post office of Luxemburg. It does not exist as a separate entity and even its name is unofficial, borrowed and anglicized. But a document found in its Sugar Bush Center tavern suggests that its name may once have been Schiller.

La Sucerie
Its present name, borrowed from an area which historically was generally called "the sugar bush country" was changed from the Belgian "La Sucerie," which means the same thing.

The sugar bush is—or more surely was—an oasis of hardwood trees, including maples—which grew, strangely enough, in an area of pine forests. Early settlers made much of their opportunities to acquire maple sugars and syrups from these trees no longer plentiful in the area.

But to the mystery: The senior citizen of Sugar Bush is a wondrously refreshing man who will be 78 years old next month. He is Louis A. Charlier, a farmer who was born in the Sugar Bush Center tavern in 1881.

Louis ruefully confesses that he is not much at remembering dates and things like that, so his charm does not lie in a long memory. Rather, it is in his quick sense of humor, his gentleness and his finely developed sense of honor.

Louis still has a flashing smile, his own teeth, and an honorable point of view: "It is best to be always fair. It is not good to lie to people or to do wrong things. I always thought so."

From Belgium

Now to the Sugar Bush gambit: Louis is the son of Telephore Charlier, who came to Sugar Bush at some unremembered time in his youth. He built the tavern on the site of a small chapel that once stood there. Louis remembers once hearing his father say: "This place looks like it will grow some."

Telephore was born in Grand Rosiere, Belgium, in 1844. His wife, Therese, Louis' mother, came from somewhere in the Luxembourg duchy, but she was brought to Sugar Bush as a child. Louis knows this. Her tombstone in Sugar Bush shows she was born in 1844 and died in 1931. Telephore died and is buried, also in Sugar Bush. His tombstone shows that he died in 1913.

The tavern built by Telephore has no date to base facts upon, though the adjoining house was erected in 1899. Louis recalls that as a boy, he and his brothers and sisters lived in a crowded shack adjacent to the present Sugar Bush Center tavern. The place, a true Wisconsin landmark, was an inn — a stopping place for travelers. The doors in the tavern are still numbered.

Clock Is Clue

The Sugar Bush Center tavern is now being remodeled by its present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Ardeal Davister, an old Sugar Bush family.

But what about the centennial? Clue: Louis still owns a clock, stem-winding and still accurate, which belonged to his father before he wed. A search of the clock revealed the year 1871 on its inside. Thus, if Telephore married soon after his arrival in Sugar Bush as Louis said he did, he could not have arrived before 1871. Then, allow him one year to build the tavern-inn, and it indicates a probable age of 87 years for the tavern.

But since Louis' mother was "raised in Sugar Bush," we can presume her age to be 10 at most at the time of her arrival, and the year at 1854.

It is recorded history in Wisconsin that the great influx of Belgian people to these communities was almost specifically in 1854 and 1855. This exactly matched the arbitrarily selected date of the arrival of Louis' mother with the earliest Belgian settlers.

So, in a few words to the ladies and gentlemen of Sugar Bush: Skip the centennial; you are a community of about 105 years old: You've had it.

"Another nice thing about Jerome: Money means nothing — just as long as I have enough for a soda and a movie!"

Unaccountable Weight Loss Often Alarming Symptom

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is it dangerous to lost weight without any seeming cause? I am in the real estate business and work long hours but am permitted to take it easy when necessary, which I do. I play a little tennis with my granddaughter. I am 57, and 5 feet 9. Eighteen months ago I weighed 148; now I weigh 130."

"I have had a little nausea once a month or so when I take a laxative, or after eating. My appetite may be off a little, but I sleep well and feel o.k. except a slight loss of energy. I take vitamins nearly all the time. I come from a slim family. Is it normal to lose weight at my age?—L.S."

Unaccountable loss of weight is an important and sometimes an alarming symptom that should be investigated.

Sneaky Ailments
However, there are certain sneaky ailments that can cause weight loss without any dramatic symptoms. One, and commoner than is often supposed, is diabetes. The other common symptoms — thirst, and frequent urination — may come on so gradually as not to be noticed, or considered unusual. Appetite is likely to remain good in a mild case of diabetes.

Thyroid disease — over-active thyroid — is another thing that can come on subtly. The patient may be energetic yet not greatly nervous. The pulse will be fast. There may be a mild and barely noticeable enlargement of the thyroid gland itself.

Tuberculosis, as well as cancer of the lung, may exist without any sign that the patient can detect, although chest X-rays will disclose the condition. Loss of weight, of course, can accompany either of those.

It is also safe in such a case to see whether cancer of the stomach is present — "appetite may be a little off . . . slight loss of energy . . . occasional nausea."

You see that there are a number of things, all of which may have approximately the same outward signs, but require some special medical tests to diagnose — X-ray, urine, or blood, etc.

I have known people 65 or older to lose weight yet have no defect show up under the most careful tests. These persons finally leveled off in weight and are well today. But I don't think this should happen at 57, so I would most certainly investigate this loss of weight as potentially a danger sign of some sort.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles". It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night. No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection. In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration. The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H*. Ask for Preparation H suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Absolute satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. *Reg. ## Film Studio Finds Way to Keep Going

U-I Firm Now Rents Property It Once Owned

BY BOB THOMAS

Hollywood —U-I— How does a big studio get into a tailspin and how does it straighten up and fly right?

The most arresting example of the fluctuations of a film company's fortunes is Universal-International. It was long cited as the smartest studio operation in Hollywood. It made varied pictures for reasonable prices and developed important stars like Rock Hudson, Jeff Chandler, Tony Curtis and Audie Murphy.

Then one day U-I shut down. Hollywood suddenly realized that the studio wasn't in such good shape after all. And the studio space? There's no rent puzzle over how it all happened.

After a year's re-tooling, during which the studio property was sold and rented back, U-I is perking once again. I asked some of the company bigwigs what happened.

"The real cause of our trouble was the automobile," said one of them. "The automobile permitted the explosion of the country's population after the war. Millions of couples now found themselves home owners. They also had more leisure time, but there was more competition for that time—do-it-yourself, Cub Scout and Brownie meetings, bowling, etc. Combined with this was survival."

the advent of television, which permitted every family to have its private projection room in the parlor. Movies found it tough to compete with these other draws on leisure time."

U-I had been making what it felt was a wide program for the whole family, ranging from the cornfed Kettles and Francis the talking mule to "Magnificent Obsession" and "The Glenn Miller Story." But it discovered that families weren't going to the movies. One survey showed that 30 per cent of the population went to the movies more than once a week a few years ago, but only 2 1/2 per cent do so today. And the majority of those are teenagers, who don't want to sit around the house with the old folks.

With 30 pictures in its backlog, U-I suspended operations. It was faced with these problems: how to cut down its massive overhead; how to lure top talent to create big attractions.

Survival Blueprint

"Since we were obviously going to make fewer pictures, we wouldn't be able to keep a big lot busy," explained Vice President Dave Lipton. "Rent studio space? There's no profit in that today because every studio is a rental lot. So the solution was to sell the studio and rent back the space, just as many big corporations do for office buildings." MCA, which needed a studio for its TV operations, was the buyer.

With its sales force streamlined and overhead trimmed, U-I could make attractive offers to independents. Kirk Douglas brought his "Spartacus" epic to the studio. Cary Grant agreed to do "Operation Petticoat" in return for producership of the film. Doris Day's company joined to competition for that time—do-it-yourself, Cub Scout and Brownie meetings, bowling, etc. Combined with this was survival."

Early American 19th Century Antique Coin Banks On Display in the Lobby at First National Bank

The Tradition of American Thrift

This craftsman is putting the finishing touches on some replicas of antique mechanical coin banks in the famous Book of Knowledge Collection. These 19th century banks and several others are on display at the First National Bank as part of a year-round exhibit. Pursuing a sort of "book-of-the-month" plan, the First National Bank of Appleton will add to the present exhibit a different hand made 19th century replica coin bank each month.

We Invite You to Come in and Examine This Fine Collection of Banks From Grandfather's Era

- The principle of thrift, so well indicated by these antique coin banks, is as important now as it was in grandfather's time. The teaching of thrift and regular savings to our children is as important today as it was then.

Peter Ustinov
Resents Being Called Freak

Artist Enjoys His Various Pursuits,
Tops in Them All

BY BOB THOMAS

Hollywood — (U) — Peter Ustinov can write short stories, novels and hit plays. He has been a sensation with his drolleries in TV talk shows. He can act up a storm in comedy or drama and direct films and plays in which he stars.

In this age of specialization, this makes him somewhat of a freak. And he resents it.

"I find a discouraging trend in the legal forms for entering countries and other government procedures," he observed. "The space for the name is getting bigger—in case your name is Worthington Farthington Banker or some sort. But the space for occupation is getting smaller all the time.

"Today you're supposed to do one thing only, not a lot of things. What would happen if Leonardo da Vinci were alive today?"

"I'm sure that someone would say to him, 'Come on, Vinchie, stick to your drawings. Quit fooling around with designing that cannon mount.' But who could say how much designing a cannon mount helped him with his drawing?"

Busy Man
Right now Ustinov feels like a slacker. He's just acting. He is playing headmaster of the gladiators' school in "Spartacus."

"Spartacus" is the stormiest film in several seasons, having already listed one director and a leading lady as casualties. One reason may be that there are too many generals in the cast. Kirk Douglas also doubles as producer, and Ustinov, Laurence Olivier and Charles Laughton have also been directors.

He continues writing a story each month for Atlantic

Radio Firm, NBC Hold
Interest in Musical

New York — (U) — The Radio Corporation of America and its affiliate, the NBC network, have a fivefold interest in the Broadway musical comedy hit "Redhead."

Having provided some of the investment capital, the firm also holds a share of the original cast phonograph album, television rights, and first refusal rights on making the musical into a film.

Monthly. He is negotiating for a deal to film "Romanoff and Juliet," the Broadway hit he wrote, directed and starred in.

One item that is not on his future book is a TV show, despite the many offers he has had. He reasons: "There is a tendency in television to place a performer at the top of a pyramid. Underneath him are all kinds of people who perform various functions and are dependent for their livelihood on the existence of the pyramid. The artist at the top finds he has less and less control over what he is doing. That's why I will limit my TV appearances to one-shot."

Peter Ustinov, Britain's man of many talents, concentrates on acting at the moment in the movie, "Spartacus." The actor-writer-director-playwright resents being considered something of a freak in this age of specialization and plans to continue with his many artistic talents.

Television Show Brings 2
Brothers Together Again

Hollywood — (U) — A young man approached TV star Peter Breck on a movie set.

"What's your full name," the man asked.

"Joseph John Peter Breck," the actor replied.

"Was your father Joe Breck, the Prince of Pep?" "Yes," was the annoyed reply "What's it to you?"

"I'm your brother." Thus Peter and George Breck were reconciled after 22 years apart. They can thank television for bringing them back together.

Recently George, a machinist in nearby Glendale, was watching Saturday night western, "Black Saddle."

He thought he detected a family resemblance in the show's cool, straight-shooting hero. When he learned the actor's name was Breck, he felt his long search for his older brother would be fulfilled.

"We both had been looking for each other for years," Peter Breck explained.

"Since I became an actor 14 years ago, I tried to find some trace of George. I had just about given up hope."

The two brothers are now getting acquainted and tracing what has happened in their lives. They were the sons of Joe Breck, a popular show business figure of the 1930s. The boys last lived together when Peter was 8 and George was 2.

As part of a divorce agreement, Peter went with his father and George stayed with his mother. Their paths grew farther apart, then the two families lost touch.

Furnishing Trends Buy Quality Furniture Which Will Last Years, Advice of Home Congress

One of the major problems faced by newlyweds all over the nation at the start of their domestic career is the furnishing of the home, according to the 100 delegates to the second annual congress on better living held in Washington, D.C.

Thus, more than half of the delegates had to start with part new and part hand-me-down furniture and only a little over half of them expressed themselves as really satisfied with the furniture they now own. Consequently, most of them plan major purchases in the next three years.

Television sets are no longer bought with an eye to their secondary function "as furniture," the swing being to built-in or portable sets or both. Plastics are generally well received but many women frown on "any and all imitations," referring particularly to plastics masquerading as wood.

Buy Quality In discussing their initial efforts in home furnishing, the delegates revealed experiences ranging all the way from the couples, in the minority, who "bought all new solid mahogany, about $2,500 to $3,000 worth with an eye to the future" to those couples, also in the minority, who made do with hand-me-down and make-shift furniture.

In general, however, the advice of the delegates is: "Make sure what you buy is good quality, design and style, even if you can buy only a piece at a time. Furniture lasts a long time and it is a mistake to buy cheap furniture because you'll be stuck with it, you never really get rid of it."

The delegates' tastes in furniture ran to traditional, modern and a combination of the two. Early American, 18th century and Victorian were favored by nine out of 10 delegates, while seven out of 10 have modern.

Living Room First One-third of the delegates made a major furniture purchase within the past year, and three-fourths bought a major item in the past three years. Most of the purchases, chairs, sofas, were for the living room, with purchases for the bedroom, suites or beds, and the dining room following in that order.

Nine out of 10 delegates plan to make further major purchases in the next three years—an average of three items per delegate. The women revealed that they had a clear mental picture of what they wanted, that they experienced no trouble in deciding what to buy, and that they are familiar with brand names, most of them could name, off hand, three brand names.

But what of salespeople in department stores and furniture stores? More than half the delegates did not find salespeople helpful and stressed the fact that they had not been well trained.

The television set has become an accepted part of the home—apart from the small number, one-sixth, of delegates who do not want it. "It's intellectual suicide," said one.

Your Problems 'Fussy' Man Objects; Aunt Feeds Guests Food Dog Left

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN Recently my wife and I visited an elderly aunt to help celebrate her birthday. While in the kitchen chatting I noticed her dog had jumped from the chair on to the table and was eating the spare ribs which were to be served to the guests.

I shouted to my aunt and she calmly replied, "Oh that's nothing. He doesn't have any germs. He's very clean." She did nothing about removing the ribs the dog had been chewing on, so I took them off the platter and let the dog finish them on the floor. My aunt's comment was "My, aren't we fancy?"

I didn't feel like eating much dinner. On the way home my wife tore me to pieces because of my "terrific manners." She said I insulted our hostess by not eating the food she had prepared.

I told her I didn't think I could eat a mouthful of food in that house ever again. Will you please referee this one? We want an unbiased opinion—Fancy.

Dear Fancy: I can't see that you need a referee. Since you now know that Auntie thinks nothing of permitting the dog to jump on the table and help himself to whatever is around, simply eat before you go over there, and make no apologies. It's not rude; it's prudent.

New Slipcovers Work Wonders in 'Tired' Rooms

If your upholstered pieces are beginning to look a little tired, you can work wonders with new slipcovers. They are easier than ever to make with a few quick tricks from local sewing center experts.

The first rule is to buy everything at once: fabric, trimmings, zippers, thread, pins and so on. Be sure to get dressmaker's chalk—it's important for the new pin-fitting technique.

To pin-fit a slipcover, cut sections roughly to size. Then seam line, working with fabric right side out.

Chalk Line Helps Pin sections together. A basting thread will help keep gathers even at front of arm and around curve in back.

Mark seam line with chalk, then trim away all seams evenly to one inch. Next take pieces off and remove pins.

If you are using fringe or place, the paper will be corded trim, stitch this along right side of fabric, on chalk line. Then turn pieces wrong side out, using the stitchy line for the fringe as a guide, stitch sections together. This technique will insure smooth seams and a good fit.

Here's a final trick: To washable — so be sure you keep the tuck-in allowance fabric is shrink resistant and smooth, so it doesn't wrinkle colorfast.

Ambitious Woman Cultivates Charm, Not Aggressiveness

BY DOROTHY ROE
AP News Features Writer

Today's ambitious woman cultivates her charm rather than her aggressiveness, says J. Christopher Herold. He is the winner of the 1959 National Book Award for his biography of Madame de Staël, the 18th Century French charmer who influenced the course of history through her choice of lovers.

In his prize-winning book, "Mistress to an Age," Herold paints a life-size picture of a woman whose zest for love, life and freethinking probably changed the course of the French Revolution and certainly shook the self-confidence of Napoleon.

"Madame de Staël, if she were living today, would never aspire to be president. But she probably would wield more power than a president, by influencing the actions of the men who make history," he said.

Best Asset

"A woman who competes with men on their own ground, rather than charming them into submission, is throwing away one of her most valuable assets."

Herold, who was born in Czechoslovakia, educated in Switzerland and now lives in Los Altos, Calif., is editor-in-chief of the Stanford University press and author of three previous scholarly works. His current biography is his first best seller.

"I've been fascinated by the life of Madame de Staël for many years," says Herold. The flamboyant Germaine Necker, who became Baronne de Staël, was married to the Swedish ambassador to the court of Louis XVI, and thereafter carried on love affairs often concurrently, with most political, literary and philosophical figures of the day. Her influence on French politics and literature was felt for three decades.

Personality Not Beauty

"Her conquests were due to her personality and not to her beauty," says Herold, "as she often is described as an ugly woman. But somehow she managed to charm most people who came in contact with her, to make them feel more brilliant and more powerful and to put them at ease. She was a genius at drawing out the hidden talents of men—and she believed that love excused anything."

"She was a woman of emotion and ambition, of brilliant mind and tempestuous heart. She would never be a career woman as we think of the term today—but she probably had more to do with directing the course of history in 18th century France than any other private individual."

New Queen Didn't Talk For 7 Years

Mobile, Ala. —(P)—A pretty brunette who's been talking only 10 of her 17 years today wears the title of America's Junior Miss.

Stately Miss Judi Humphrey of Lewisburg, Pa., was selected from among 10 finalists to climax the four-day pageant Saturday night. She squealed loudly when her name was called and told the audience of 3,000:

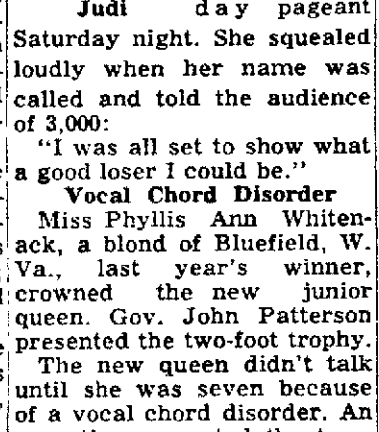

"I was all set to show what a good loser I could be."

Vocal Chord Disorder

Miss Phyllis Ann Whittemack, a blond of Bluefield, W. Va., last year's winner, crowned the new junior queen. Gov. John Patterson presented the two-foot trophy.

The new queen didn't talk until she was seven because of a vocal chord disorder. An operation corrected the trouble and her tireless practice brought her the dictation and voice that won the spectators and judges.

Runnersup, in order, were Peggy W. Kerwin, Webster Grove, Mo.; Linda Couch, Tampa, Fla.; Diane Eleanor Lee, Nome, Alaska, and Kathleen Honish, Shorewood, Wis.

Lawrence College

"A College, A River, A Town," first of seven programs about Lawrence college, was begun at 11:15 a.m. Sunday by WFRV-TV. Subsequent shows, at the same time, will combine live appearances and film.

School of Experience Offers Best Classrooms for New Legislators

Two Wisconsin congressmen are among freshmen congressmen and senators learning in the school of experience to solve the problems of moving to Washington.

After their election enrolled them in the congress of the United States, Rep. Gerald Flynn from the First district and Robert Kastner from the Second found that no textbook of regulations or suggestions has been written to help solve their problems. Trial and error is their teacher.

Lesson No. 1 begins with the physical problem of office space in the house of representatives office building. Kastner bumped right against the house method of assigning offices to freshman representatives.

Kastner said that when the drawing for the order in which he was unlucky and drew number 76. There were 79 new representatives and only 75 offices to be assigned, he explained.

Four Reserved

It seems that Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn was reserving four choice offices for congressmen with a lot of seniority. After these congressmen had picked their new offices, their old ones would be available for other congressmen.

For the first two weeks, Kastner was given office space in one corner of the house caucus room. In the other corner was an office of the internal revenue department.

Replied his secretary, "If you find out, let me know."

Kastner said he was assigned an office on the seventh floor with windows facing the Washington and Lincoln monuments. Everyone on the staff held his breath, he said, for if a congressman with seniority had wanted this office, they would have moved again.

Kastner still has his office on the seventh floor.

Flynn had no problem in being assigned an office—but a problem in redecorating.

Picture Passion

The Louisiana congressman who had previously occupied the office assigned to Flynn had a passion for pictures. He covered the walls of his office with hundreds of pictures. And for every picture there was a nail.

Flynn said that all the hundreds of nails had to be pried from the walls and then the walls had to be painted while he and his office staff were working in the office.

Every new congressman is faced with the problem of hiring an office staff to answer mail from his constituents and to hunt up information about current legislation.

He must decide whether to bring his office staff to Washington from his home state or district or to hire some professional employees with years of experience on capitol hill.

Strike Balance

Kastner said he wanted to strike a balance. He said people from his local district would add warmth and friendliness to the office and would know the people and problems of his district.

But, he continued, experienced employees know the system of getting things done. They know what agencies to contact for answers to questions from constituents.

Another problem of congressmen and senators can be spelled I-E-T-U-E-R-S. Seemingly, Houk, 30, died early this morning in a Beloit hospital, flowing into Washington be-from a constituent requesting that the next tornado be named after his wife. A member of his office staff called the weather bureau to find out how it named tornadoes. A letter was then sent to the constituent explaining that his request couldn't be granted because the weather bureau had already named one tornado Elthelia.

New congressmen also must study the problem of the system and procedures in the house. Advice comes from many different quarters. Experienced employees assist the newcomer in learning what information he can get from which government agency.

Informal Learning

Like many others, Kastner said that he learned a lot informally from his colleagues.

The house itself has set up a bi-partisan orientation program for the new members. A group of six congressmen explained the ins and outs of the house at six sessions held during a 2-week period.

Most executive departments improve their relations with congress by holding briefing sessions for the new members. For example, the secretary of the army briefed them on the status of the Russian army and other military matters. The department of the treasury showed a 1-hour film on its activities and then answered questions at lunch.

Even the library of congress gets into the act. The legislative reference department explained how easy it is for a congressman to get information about any pending legislation. A phone call to the library of congress will send research assistants scurrying among the book shelves to hunt up the information.

But all congressmen and senators realize they are not whisked away to Washington on a magic carpet immediately after their election. All loose ends in their home state or district must be sewed up.

Kastner said his major problem after his election was the breaking off of his relationships in Watertown. He was a practicing lawyer, a justice of the peace, an insurance agent, and a real estate agent before his election.

"I had to find a lawyer to take over my law practice. Then all my law cases had to be concluded or else explained to my new partner," he explained.

"Behind The Iron Curtain" is the title of the talk, which is open to the public.

Regents Would Fight Bill Granting Legal Tenure to Professors

Madison —(P)—University of Wisconsin board of regents said Saturday they would oppose a bill designed to grant legal tenure to professors and instructors at the university and in state colleges.

Sen. Carl Laursen, D-Superior, authored the bill and said it would prevent occurrences similar to the Prof. George Ball case at Superior State college.

Ball was fired by the college president. He appealed to state college regents who upheld the president's decision. Ball took the case to court and the Wisconsin supreme court said he did not receive a fair hearing and advised the regents to give him another hearing or rehire him.

Small Stores Suffer Fewer Storm Effects

Groceries in Business Districts Find Friday's Volume Small, Saturday's Large

Neighborhood grocery stores seemed to suffer fewer effects from last week's snow storm than larger chain stores, a survey of several Appleton businesses indicates. The reason is laid to the nature of the businesses. Because neighborhood stores cater primarily to residents in their immediate areas, food shoppers were able to walk for their weekend supplies.

Chain stores, most of them in business districts and most of them relying on automotive shoppers, suffered more because of the immobility of the city, it is believed.

Friday Worst

Friday was the worst day for larger stores—most people were inclined to remain at home rather than face the brunt of the wind-driven snow. However, managers report Saturday was an extra-large day as many shoppers dug out to replenish their dwindling food supplies.

Thursday, the day the storm began, was about normal for all stores, it was reported.

Owners of neighborhood stores said they didn't suffer as many ill effects as expected. One owner said Friday's business was about half of a normal Friday but still was more than he expected. Saturday's volume, he said, was about normal or a bit above normal.

Delivery Service

Another small neighborhood store owner with a delivery service said his business was not hurt at all. He said deliveries were a little slower on Friday but were extra large on Saturday.

Still another small store owner said business didn't suffer much but came in spurts on Friday—mostly around the lunch and dinner hours. Again, Saturday's business was extra large, so any Friday losses were balanced.

Death of Mother, Son Ups Road Toll to 110

The mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Houk, 30, died early this morning in a Beloit hospital, flowing into Washington be-

Three Townships Still Have Areas Closed by Snow

Clayton, Winchester Included;
Most Roads Only 1-Lane Wide

Oshkosh — Three townships still have six to eight miles each of roads to be opened up this morning and in the rest of the county there was only one land of travel open, Leon Morrissey, county highway commissioner reported this morning.

When the county starts to widen the roads, many of the driveways will be plugged up but this cannot be helped, he explained.

Plows started out at 5 a.m.

Car Bursts Into Flames, Cane Unhurt

Menasha — Assemblyman Arnold J. Cane was able to escape from his car seconds before it burst into flame along Highway 26 between Waupun and Rosendale Thursday. The entire car was damaged by the fire.

Cane was on his way home from the legislature during the height of the storm.

He said he began to have difficulty breathing and opened the window a little when the flames darted out from underneath the dashboard. He fled the car into the high wind and drifting snow and, after quite a wait, was able to get a ride back to Waupun in a truck.

He came the rest of the way by bus. The bus driver got out and walked ahead of the bus every little bit to check drifts and curves.

Twin City Deaths

Hackstock Infant

Neenah — Mary Hackstock, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Hackstock, 114 Olive street, died shortly after birth this morning at Theda Clark hospital.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday at the Kessler Funeral home with the Rev. James W. Craanen, assistant pastor of St. church in charge. Burial will be in St. Margaret cemetery.

Survivors in addition to the parents, are four brothers, James, David, Michael and Kenneth, and three sisters, Darlene, Gail and Lynn, all at home; and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Hackstock of Neenah and Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeLeeuw of Kaukauna.

Truck Mishap Delays Neenah Snow Plowing

High Drifts in Southeast Area
Cleared by Sunday

Neenah — Three newly developed areas in the southeast end of Neenah were unable to be opened up by snow plows until Saturday night because of a burned-out clutch on the city's largest truck.

Mayor Bell said this morning.

These areas were the Whinnack, Edgewood and Glenayre subdivisions.

Friday's blizzard, coming so soon after the heavy storms of Feb. 10 and 23, created emergency conditions for the citizens and street crews, the mayor said and he expressed his thanks to the Neenah residents for their patience "in the face of very trying conditions." He also expressed his appreciation to the street crews for their hard work.

"The worst problems were in the outlying areas," the mayor declared. "The two previous storms had left snow still piled high along the sides of our streets. In the more open areas, especially to the south and southeast, the strong winds had piled the snow in deep drifts three to five feet high — too deep for our single winged plows.

"These lighter pieces of equipment which were used effectively in the urban areas were incapable of bucking the huge drifts and repeatedly bogged down."

Clutch Burned Out

The only equipment able to cope with the deep, closely packed snow, was a heavy "V-plow" which had not been used for 15 or 20 years. The only truck capable of mounting this heavy plow and forcing it through the drifts was a 4-wheel drive which had been put out of commission early Friday morning with a burned-out clutch.

The clutch was sent to Oshkosh for repairs, leaving the people in those three subdivisions helplessly snowbound in their homes, Mayor Bell cited. The truck was returned to the city by 4:30 p.m. Saturday. The "V-plow" was mounted on it, a heavy load of gravel added for ballast and it began to buck the drifts along the streets.

"While other crews were sent home for much needed rest, Ray Knaack and Martin Damrau drove the "V-plow" through the impassable streets while Ken Ratburg followed with a single-winged plow," the mayor explained. Wayne G. Bryan, public work director, remained on hand to assist in emergencies and the four men stayed on the job to 3:30 a.m. Sunday.

The mayor said that Sunday morning every home could be reached but that much further work still needed to be done.

Oshkosh Man Takes Life by Hanging

Oshkosh — Milo T. Sibley, 72, of 118 W. Twenty-Fourth avenue, took his life by hanging Sunday morning. He was discovered about 7 a.m. in the basement by his wife.

Firemen administered oxygen in a vain attempt to revive him but he was pronounced dead by Dr. G. A. Steele, county coroner.

Mrs. Sibley told Oshkosh police that her husband had been in ill health and was despondent.

er court, pleaded innocent of driving too fast for conditions and his trial was set for 10 a.m. Saturday. He was involved in an accident last week.

Forty-Six Children and Five Adults were stranded for two nights at the Clayton school in Winnebago county west of Neenah when drifts blocked rural roads in that area. One pupil at upper left eagerly watches the arrival of a snow plow Saturday morning while at lower left is one of the drifts outside the window where Susan Wagner and Richard Luebke are sitting. Pupils are shown at upper right waving goodbye to the school while in the middle Mrs. Bernice Sturtz and Mrs. Helen Schultz, principal, check off the many donated blankets. Blankets on floors served as mattresses for, left to right, Linda Robinson, Judy Pingel, Brenda Olson, Karen Schuelke, Sandra Deelow, Sandra Sedo, Janine Luebke and Sherrill Robinson.

Menathan Fined $40 On 2 Traffic Charges

Oshkosh — Ronald C. Rose, 21, of 813 Third street, Menasha, pleaded guilty to charge of speeding and having a noisy muffler and was fined $40 and costs or eight days in jail by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger this morning.

Rose was arrested on Highway 47 in the town of Menasha on Jan. 17.

Pays $10, Costs in Neenah Police Court

Neenah — Erna A. Strey, 922 Adams street, paid a fine of $10 and costs after pleading guilty before Police Justice E. P. Arpin Saturday of failing to yield the right-of-way. Her car was involved in an accident at 6:46 a.m. Wednesday.

Jerold Flauber, 32, 223 Loper court, pleaded innocent of driving too fast for conditions and his trial was set for 10 a.m. Saturday. He was involved in an accident last week.

Forfeits Bond

Neenah — Ronald J. Zachow, 26, 211 Langley boulevard, forfeited $9.20 at the police station today for failing to stop for the arterial at Henry and W. Cecil streets at 11:47 p.m. Saturday.

er court, pleaded innocent of driving too fast for conditions and his trial was set for 10 a.m. Saturday. He was involved in an accident last week.

Injuries Plus Weather Changes Equal Backache

By Upton K. Furman
Chiropractor, Neenah

Sudden changes in weather such as we are now experiencing, help to bring about painful "catches" in the back. These are sometimes called lumbago, rheumatic neuritis, sacro-iliac sprain or just plain rheumatism.

Such pains are often brought about by severe injury or sprain, but may be caused by merely twisting, stooping, or lifting which would hardly seem severe enough to cause the trouble. The pain may immediately follow the injury or it may be mild at the onset and grow continually worse. Sometimes the pain may not be felt for weeks or months but will develop with sudden weather changes such as frequently occur in the spring and fall.

All cases, however present a history of some type of injury which has produced a misalignment of the spine or pelvis. Chiropractic adjustments correct the misalignment and bring relief in most cases.

'Parents are People' The Rev. Mr. Kelley emphasized young people should remember that parents are people as well as fathers and mothers. They agreed that parents should know where young people are at all times and the friends they are with.

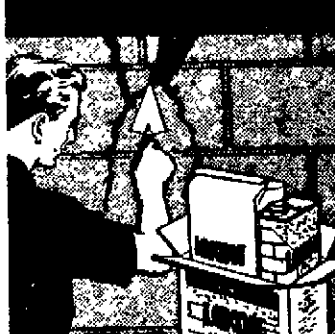

If a parent finds his child's friends objectionable, the young people should have a chance to defend his friends, both groups said. Parents sometimes judge friendships on the basis of rumor and hearsay.

Responsibility Regarding the amount of work a young person should do at home, Mr. Bayley explained responsibility at home should be commensurate with freedom allowed away from the home. Added freedom should be accompanied by additional responsibility.

The necessity of parents setting a good example was discussed, pointing out habits created in the early years of development remain good habits and correct values in later years.

Questions to be discussed at the next session will include annual meeting, include Mrs. Walter Werner, Mrs. E. O. Woerner, Mrs. Joseph Turley, Miss Charlotte McIntyre, Miss Agnes Woerner, Mrs. Dickson and Mrs. John Teeple.

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Green Bay — A gallant St. Mary High school squad, which exceeded all preseason expectations, couldn't quite make the complete haul and bowed to Racine St. Catherine 64-54 in the state Catholic High school tournament championship game here Sunday afternoon.

Thus the talented Racine entry successfully defended its state crown and in doing so snapped St. Mary's nifty from 11 to 19 points in the second segment and the scoreboard read 34-18 at the intermission.

The Blue and White made a game comeback in the second half. The Twin Cities got the spread down to nine points at one time and it was 45-34 when the period was completed.

St. Mary continued on the road back in the final session and not too deep into the frame had the difference down to seven at 47-40.

But about that time the Angels began almost permanent occupancy of the free throw line and the Zephyrs couldn't chop the spread down any further.

17 of 26 Free Throws
Racine chalked up 19 points in the last quarter and only two of them came from the floor. It attempted 26 free throws and canned 17. Jim Paulsen was on the line 14 times.

St. Catherine has a well-poised crew which should be a credit to the state in the upcoming national tournament in Washington, D.C.

The Angels handled the Zephyr press without too much difficulty, had a big edge in defensive rebounding and were quicker going after loose balls.

Racine, however, was able to dictate its terms in its first two games, winning over Superior Cathedral by 47 points and over Milwaukee Cathedral by 19. St. Mary had to fight all the way for its last second triumph over Edgewood in the semis and that struggle undoubtedly left its mark on the Zephyr boys.

In order to rest his boys as much as possible and at the same time attempt to tire the Racine cagers, McClone two-platoon his team in the second half, sending in five subs at a clip, with each group going two or three minutes at a time.

"Chuck" Wood, Milwaukee Catholic conference scoring champion, garnered Racine scoring honors with 28 points on nine baskets and a sharp 10 for 11 from the free throw line. Wood, a 6-2 junior, jumps center although the Angels have a 6-6 boy in the lineup.

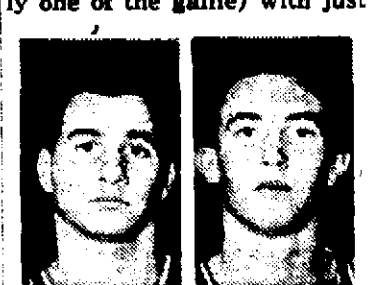

Paulsen was next with 18 points, including 14 of 21 from the free throw stripe. Dean Schreiner copped St. Mary point honors with 13, including nine in the last quarter. Pete Vanderhyden added 12, topped by four baskets in the third frame.

Halt Long Edgewood Win Chain

Green Bay — A clutch field goal by Norm Brown (his only one of the game) with just three seconds left to play put an abrupt halt to Madison Edgewood's 21-game winning string as St. Mary recorded a 54-52 semi-final win here Saturday night.

The Menashans did a pretty good job on Bill Gismold, Edgewood's 6-7 pivotman, stopping him with 19 points. They played a deliberate game, taking only 48 shots at the basket and made those that they did take good shots.

The game was tight all the way and the fourth period was one of the most exciting of the tournament. St. Mary led 40-39 going into the frame, and kept the advantage (the widest margin four points at 48-44) until with less than three minutes left Edgewood tied the score at 49-all.

Zephyrs Take Lead

Pete Vanderhyden put St. Mary in front by a point with his free throw but Phil North of the Crusaders gave Edgewood its first lead of the fourth quarter with his jump shot. North made it 52-50 with a free throw with 1:05 remaining.

With just a half minute left to play, Jim Ruckl deadlocked the issue with his jump shot. Edgewood was called for traveling after taking possession and then Brown decided the contest with his jump toss from the circle.

St. Mary had leads of 5-1 and 7-2 in the first period but trailed 17-14 at the end of the frame.

Tied Six Times

The score was tied six times in the second segment until North dropped in a jump shot, giving Edgewood a 32-30 half-time advantage.

St. Mary scored the first six points of the third quarter on layups by Vanderhyden and Dean Schreiner and Jim Bayer's short shot. Its widest lead was four points and the narrowest one, 40-39, at the end of the period.

St. Mary scoring honors went to Ruckl and Batley with 10 points apiece. Schreiner chalked up nine.

Field Goal Edge
Gismold had 19, North 15 and Tom Miller 12 for the Capital city caters.

The Zephyrs had a 23-17 field goal edge, but as was the case in Sunday's championship game, their opponents did well from the free throw line, hitting 18 for 29. St. Mary had a better percentage, but only received 13, making eight.

All Eyes Were on the Ball in this scene from the state high school Catholic tournament championship game Sunday in the Brown County arena. Straining anxiously for the rebound are: St. Mary's Norm Brown (23), St. Catherine's "Chuck" Wood (23), St. Mary's Jim Bayer (31) and St. Catherine's Tom Schilbe (11). In the background is St. Mary's Jim Ruckl (43). St. Catherine won, 64-54, for its second consecutive state title.

Tourney Sidelights

Gary Batley Lone St. Mary Cager Picked on All-Tournament Squad

Green Bay — Gary Batley, St. Mary senior, was the only Zephyr chosen on the all-state Catholic tournament team announced at the close of Sunday's 29th annual meet.

Champion Racine St. Catherine placed three boys on the all-meet squad — Jim Paulsen, Jim May, and "Chuck" Wood.

Other selections were Chuck Millenbach, Wisconsin Rapids Assumption; Bill Gismold and Phil North, Madison Edgewood; Gordon Michaels and Ron Benz, Milwaukee Cathedral; and Bob Pecotte, Marinette Catholic.

Racine became the seventh team to cop the title two years in succession. The others were Marinette Lourdes 1932-33, St. Norbert 1936-37, Madison Edgewood 1942-43, Eau Claire Regis 1947-48, La Crosse Aquinas 1949-50 and St. Norbert 1956-57.

And there is a good chance that the Angels may be one of the top contenders next year since six of their first seven boys are juniors or sophomores. The only senior starter is guard, Jim May, not a high scorer, but the club's field general.

St. Mary won't be too bad off either since there were only four seniors on its tournament squad of 12.

Attendance at the championship game was about 2,300, undoubtedly held down by the inclement weather — but more than could have

Former M-E Trackmen To Run at Milwaukee

Menasha — Several former Mid-Eastern conference trackmen are scheduled to compete in the Milwaukee indoor track games this evening.

They include Menasha's Bob Osiewalski and Pete Kasewski of Clintonville, who will be competing in the relay event for 62-55 Saturday night. Flom college, and Jack Roome scored 25 points. He also collected 25 as the Big Red top Oshkosh State college's relay team.

been seated in the St. Norbert college gym, site of the first 28 tournaments.

The Rev. Dennis Burke, St. Norbert college president, who made the trophy presentations, said he was sure that had the weather cooperated, the arena stands would have been filled for the finals.

St. Mary was one of the better shooting teams of the meet. It outgunned Racine 377 to 344 in the finals, had a 479 to 369 advantage over Madison Edgewood in the semi-finals and 474 to 316 spread over Marinette Central Catholic in the opener.

For St. Mary, it marked the seventh straight year that it returned from the tournament with a trophy. It took championships in 1953 and 1955, was runnerup in 1956, took thirds in 1954 and 1957 and consolation honors in 1958.

Advances to 2nd Round in Fondy Basketball Meet

Fond du Lac — St. John CYO, winner of the recent St. Patrick Invitational tournament, launched play in the Fond du Lac CYO meet with a 48-34 win over St. Patrick of Beaver Dam here Sunday night.

St. John trailed 10-8 at the close of a quarter and was on the short end of a 17-14 half-time score as it could only manage three field goals in the second period.

The winners exceeded their first two frame's production with a 15-point third segment, at the same time holding Beaver Dam to eight, for a 29-25 lead.

St. John closed with 20 points while St. Patrick was limited to eight for the third straight frame.

Averages Setback
The Rockets played Oshkosh here two of the last three years and Menasha and Omro were opponents last winter.

The Fox Valley league entry dumped the Rockets 99-65 in the 1956 meeting and Neenah had to wait a year to gain revenge, posting a 65-55 triumph last winter. They took a 19-8 first quarter lead over Coach Ron Nord's athletes and led 35-25 at halftime.

Of the boys on the current squads who saw action, Bill Kuehl had four points for Neenah and Bob Leary 17, Gene Englund five and Marv Stille two for Oshkosh.

Rocket Mark 19-10
Going into the contest, Neenah will have a 19-10 record and Oshkosh 13-6.

Menasha was given an all-out struggle before nipping Omro 51-47 in last season's opening tourney game. The Jays had a 21-11 second period edge but only made three and each for Menasha and Doug the score was tied going into Emerson, Omro, 11. It was the Foxes' first return to regional play after competing at the district level for seven seasons.

A Determined Expression on his face, Neenah's Jack Ankerson drives for the basket during first half action in Saturday's Neenah-Menasha subregional tourney game. Bluejay defenders are Dave Robinson (24) and Hal Jorgensen (20). Neenah recorded a 63-59 win and will play Oshkosh tonight. The Jays meet Omro.

Extend Fund Drive Period Of Red Cross

Menasha Chapter Reports $4,000 in Of $10,000 Goal

Menasha — Collections of the Menasha Red Cross chapter total only about $4,000 of the $10,000 goal in the annual fund drive, according to Frank H. Heckrodt, campaign chairman.

However, the total includes only some of the advance solicitation and industrial gifts. Last week's weather raised havoc with plans to conduct the residential drive on Thursday, Red Cross day.

As a result, residential solicitors are being requested to complete their collections by the end of this week and turn them in to the ward captains. Some solicitations were made before Thursday's storm but no ward captains have completed their assignments and turned them in to Mrs. George Gasiewski, residential drive chairman.

A small business drive was scheduled for Saturday but it too fell by the wayside. Instead it will be held next Saturday.

The school campaign also has been delayed but will be held this week, according to M. J. Gegan, school superintendent and drive chairman in that area. Richard Hill, Jr., has charge of the campaign for clubs and organizations with Charles N. Gilbert heading the industrial campaign and Mrs. R. E. Thickens, advance gifts.

High Snow Called Factor In Smashup

Girl, 2½, Injured Slightly as Auto Strikes Snowplow

Menasha — Visibility limited by a high snowbank was listed as a factor in the collision Sunday morning of two cars at 813 Racine street, Menasha.

Involved were an auto driven by Leo V. Suchodolski, 63, who was backing from his driveway, and a truck operated by Edward Sheets, 16, 406 Ninth street, Menasha.

At 11:37 p.m. Saturday, autos driven by Steven O. Stillman, 16, 218 N. Drew street, Appleton, and Thomas F. Schindler, 21, route 2, Menasha, were involved in an accident at Main and Racine streets.

Police said the mishap occurred when the Stillman auto slid into the rear of the Schindler vehicle, which was stopped for a red light.

Karen Toeppler, 24-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Toeppler, 108 Law street, Neenah, was treated at Theda Clark hospital for a cut on the forehead after the car driven by her father skidded into a Menasha snowplow at First street and Nicolet boulevard at 10:20 a.m. Sunday.

Fined $5, Costs

Neenah — Orville Rose, 52, 209 Plummer avenue, was fined $5 and costs by Police Justice E. P. Arpin this morning after he pleaded guilty of drunkenness. He was arrested at 8:50 p.m. Sunday on Dennhardt street.

It Isn't Hard to Determine the winner of Saturday's Neenah-Menasha game from the antics of the Rocket cheerleaders, who express their joy at the exciting 63-59 triumph. Neenah plays Oshkosh tonight.

Most County Trunks Have One Lane Open

today and most roads should be opened by tonight. In some towns where there are stretches of a half mile or three-fourths of a mile with no one living in the area, the plows did not attempt to go through.

The county highway commissioner advised that rural schools should remain closed today because it will be almost impossible for the buses to make their routes.

Even cars are unable to turn off onto side roads or into driveways, Morrissey said. It would be still harder for a bus to try to turn from one road onto another.

Because of the high snow banks, he urged all motorists drive with extreme caution because of the difficulty of seeing traffic to either side.

County highway crews have been working an average of 18 hours a day since Thursday morning. The majority of them now are opening up farmer's driveways and then will start to widen the state roads.

The policy is to open the state highways first and then to open up single lanes on country trunks and then on town roads. When the plows are working in the towns, they are under the direction of the town chairman as to which roads and driveways are to be done first. Morrissey said he had no control over the town snow plowing arrangements.

The county has 16 large "V-plows," two large 1-way plows nine small 1-way plows and 13 graders which have a blade and a wing plow. The large plows have to stay on the state roads until there is 2-way traffic on them and then make just one trip through on the county trunks.

Each plow has a certain number of miles on county trunks to maintain and then goes into the towns. The plows are assigned to certain areas to patrol.

Morrissey indicated plows worked all Saturday night in the town of Neenah to have that open by Sunday morning and also had the town of Menasha open then. He said the county was quite fortunate it did not have any large breakdowns of equipment.

Widening of the county trunks is to start Tuesday, he said.

Polling Place Setup Work Causes Slight Letup in Snow Hauling

Menasha — Snow hauling was interrupted this morning when city street crews were assigned to setting up election booths in Menasha polling places.

City engineer M. J. Noth said the crews were to resume snow removal operations this afternoon. The crews, he said, had worked 30 hours straight in clearing streets of the residue of the 36-hour blizzard of Thursday and Friday.

Summer Recreational

Menasha — Applications for summer recreational program workers were considered at last week's meeting of the Menasha Recreation commission and the list of qualified persons made, said Robert Vanevenhoven, recreation director.

Borrowed From Milwaukee, This Sno-Go, rotary snow plow and blower unit, working here on N. Meade street near Appleton Memorial hospital, was put out of commission by two concrete blocks in a S. Oneida street driveway about 3:30 this morning. Damage was extensive. The unit and four trucks with V-plows were scheduled to return to Milwaukee late this morning. Milwaukee city officials will tabulate the cost of the help and send Appleton a bill.

Youngster Receives Head Bump in Crash

Oshkosh — Cars driven by Leslie A. Behm, 33, of 730 Northland avenue, Appleton, and Robert Yarbor, 33, route 4, Oshkosh, collided at the intersection of Highway 21 and Oakwood road in the town of Algoma at 12:15 p.m. Saturday.

Behm's 6-year old son, Mark, bumped his head and sheriff's police suggested that he see a physician.

Wendorf Cracks Peak 574 Set

Menasha — Clarence Wendorf rolled a 574 series to pace the Bird Mixed Couples league Sunday night at the Menasha Recreation alleys.

Worthless Check Charge Dismissed

Oshkosh — A charge against Mrs. Barbara Widmer, 708 Oregon street, Oshkosh, of issuing a worthless check, was discussed by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger this morning.

Twin Tiger Cubs Prove Value of Environment

New York — What has happened to twin tiger cubs at the Bronx zoo shows what environment can do.

The 3-month-old male cub has remained with his mother. He is a "typical" tiger—sulks, growls and snarls.

The female, reared by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martini, the zoo keepers, is like a gentle kitten—ready to play and not at all nasty.

There is more than a scientific reason for separation of the cubs. The zoo wanted special care for the female because her mother, the only other female tiger on hand, is growing old. Another is needed for breeding.

It will be Menasha against Omro in tonight's 7 o'clock consolation fray and Neenah versus Oshkosh for the championship in the second test. The winners face the Kimberly sub-regional victors here Tuesday night.

Coach Ole Jorgensen's Rockets looked much sharper than in their loss to the Jays of Feb. 27. They rebounded well, hit better than 40 percent from the floor and plucked off several poor Menasha passes and converted three thefts into scores.

Make up Deficit
The Jays, trailing by 11 points at one juncture in the third period, were just a point in arrears with 61 seconds left to play but couldn't make the complete comeback.

Neenah gained the lead for good late in the first quarter. At 12-12, the Rockets' Tom Smith scored on a jump shot and added a pair of free throws for a 16-12 score at the close of the frame.

It was 26-25 with about a minute left to play in the second session when Neenah put together a string of six straight points, two baskets by Bill Kuehl and another by Jack Ankerson, after a steal, for a 32-25 halftime margin.

Take 50-44 Edge
At one juncture in the third session, Neenah held a 46-33 lead but Menasha rallied to slim the spread to 48-44. Paul Felton dropped in a rebound shot to close the third period scoring with the Rockets on top 50-44.

Marquette to Duel Bowling Green '5'

Warriors End Regular Season on
Sour Note With 51-35 Defeat

Milwaukee —(P) Marquette university, having ended its regular basketball season on a sour note with a 51-35 loss at Notre Dame, left here today for Lexington, Ky., and Tuesday night's NCAA game with Bowling Green.

Marquette beat Bowling Green, 73-62, earlier. The Warriors came out of Saturday's rough game against the Irish in good physical shape but were bothered by many factors including poor shooting and Notre Dame's defensive tactics.

Marquette began a stall at the start and the game was scoreless for the first 11 minutes. Finally the Warriors ran up an 8-2 lead only to run into a batch of fouls which enabled Notre Dame to catch up. The half ended in a tie at 16 but the Irish sank two fast buckets and stayed ahead. Using a zone defense, Notre Dame placed three

The Warriors trailed, 44-26, before opening up the game in a vain attempt to catch up.

Honor Veteran
Coach Tonight
At Cage Banquet

Madison —(P) They're going to honor Bud Foster tonight for 25 years as Wisconsin basketball coach — a post he resigned Saturday.

He will remain on the campus, with no cut in salary, as professor of athletics and director of grants-in-aid and related programs.

Planned Earlier
After his team completed the worst season in Wisconsin history by losing at Indiana, 97-71, Saturday night Foster said, "It's been a great 25 years but some new blood may help Wisconsin. I might consider coaching again in a couple of years but I'm going to take it easier for a while."

Meanwhile the hunt is on for a successor.

Tonight's annual basketball banquet was planned before Foster's resignation was announced by the university board of regents. On hand will be many of his former players, some of whom tasted the glory of Big Ten and NCAA championships. Also attending will be rival coaches from sev-

Three Lawrence college athletes won individual titles over the weekend as the Vikes finished well up in both the Midwest conference swimming and wrestling meets.

Mike Lepawsky and diver Mike Murphy won firsts for the Vikes as Coach Gene Davis' crew tied for third in the MC meet at Northfield, Minn., with 25 points.

Heavyweight Bob Smith won Lawrence's first individual wrestling crown in six years as the Vikes finished fifth in the meet at Galesburg, Ill., with 23 points.

Lepawsky won the 200-yard breaststroke in a conference, pool and Vike varsity record.

Smith Murphy breaking time of 2:33.1. Lepawsky held the former conference mark of 2:36.1. Carleton's Murray finished second. Murphy piled up 174 points to win the diving title for the second straight year. In second place was Grinnell's Brenahan. Dick Bjornson picked up a second for Lawrence as he drove Beloit's Black to a new conference and pool record of 2:20.8 in the 200-yard backstroke.

New Varsity Record
Lepawsky set a new varsity record of 2:32.5 as he came in third in the 200-yard butterfly. Knox ace Bob Proebsting won the event in a sensational time of 2:11.7.

The Lawrence 400 - yard medley relay team (Bjornson, Lepawsky, Pete Switzer and Don Patterson) came in fourth. Grinnell's winners set a new MC and pool record of 4:14.2.

Kimberly — You'd think that sitting around an extra two days while it snowed, waiting to play the state's No. 1-rated team would have given Kaukauna High's basketball Ghosts the shakes.

Instead, it seemed to increase their determination and they led Kimberly 26-24, at the half, in a first round game of the Kimberly Sub-Regional tournament here Saturday night.

Then, vastly superior manpower started making a difference. The powerful Papermaker juggernaut couldn't be stopped once it started rolling and the Ghosts were ground under, 65-43, to become unbeaten Kimberly's nineteenth straight victim.

Fiery Lecture
Thus, Kimberly faces Appleton — a club which it drubbed in its season opener — tonight for the sub-regional championship. Kaukauna tangles with Hortonville, in what shapes up as an even contest, for consolation honors.

Papermaker Coach Gil Frank is a social studies instructor at Kimberly High but a fiery halftime lecture Saturday dealt with ways to become — in a hurry — more unsociable hosts to Kaukauna.

His brilliant ball club responded in a hurry, scoring 12 of the third quarter's first 14 points. Kimberly had a 23-7 point edge in the third segment and a 41-16 bulge in the second half after turning on the fast-break steam full blast.

Lead Man
Speedy junior forward Darrell Jansen, especially, responded to Frank's halftime remonstrances. The 6-3 Jansen, who hadn't scored a point in the first two stanzas, tallied 24 of Kimberly's 41 second-half markers in what seemed, at times, like a personal feud with the visitors.

Jansen, time after time the lead man on the matchless Kimberly quick break, flashed home 10 of 20 field goal attempts and all four of his free

Comet Five Bows To Stevens Point

Panthers Win Sub-Regional Championship Game, 66-59

Waupaca — Stevens Point defeated Waupaca's Comets, 66-59, here Saturday night to win the Waupaca sub-regional basketball title.

In the consolation game, Wisconsin Rapids downed New London, 64-53.

The Panthers (who handed Waupaca two of the only four defeats they suffered during the season) broke ahead, 18-8, after one quarter of play.

The Comets scrapped back, and midway in the final period, trailed by only four points. The Panthers, however, preserved the win.

Stevens Point's outside shooting did most of the damage, with Don White leading the way on 15 points.

Waupaca's Jim Danielsen led both teams in point-making with 18. Ken Rushford added 14. Both Danielsen and Al Larkee were burdened by three first-half fouls.

Waupaca concluded its season with an 18-4 record.

Terrors Nip Hortonville In Final :02

Kimberly — Hortonville High's gallant Polar Bears trailed for only about 17 seconds of their game with Appleton here Saturday night.

But, the Terrors picked a pretty important time to be ahead — at the gun — and won a palpitating 50-49 decision to move into tonight's sub-regional finals against Kimberly.

Appleton led for about 15 seconds early in the first quarter, when John Nussbaum draped the game's opening basket with about 7:45 to go in the period. Hortonville tied the score quickly on Gary Kohl's medium-range jump shot, with about 7:30 showing.

From that point until Nussbaum corded the game-winning free throw with just two seconds left, the Polar Bears never were behind.

Bidding for their second straight victory over the Terrors — who represent a school about six times as large — the Bears held 10-point leads twice. Hortonville was on top, 12-2, midway in the opening stanza and by 42-32 early in the final quarter.

The tactic which proved so successful for Hortonville in a stirring 65-61 Sectional tourney win over AHS a year ago, control ball, failed Coach Russ Tiedemann and his fired-up charges this time.

Where the 1957-8 Bears' Dennis Sommers and Joe Steffen were able to hold the ball successfully playing for AHS fouls, this year's crew couldn't make the stall work. Despite the presence of the talented Steffen, Hortonville lost the ball repeatedly on violations down the stretch against the finally-awakened favorites.

Here's the rundown on the final eight minutes:

Tournament Sidelights Kimberly, AHS Rooters Alike Hope History Will be Repeated Tonight

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Kimberly — Kimberly and Appleton High rooters alike will be hoping for a repetition of history—from totally different standpoints, of course—in tonight's sub-regional cage tourney finals.

Papermaker fans will hark back to 1955, the last time the battling rivals played a tourney game here when Kimberly rallied in the fourth quarter for one of the wins (58-48) that carried it to the state tournament.

Bigger Underdog
Terror followers are pulling for a repeat of 1956 when the home-standing AHS Cinderella team halted Kimberly, then, as now, ranked tops in the state—and used the 63-57 shocker as a springboard to the state meet.

In all, Dick Emanuel-coached AHS teams hold a 2-win-to-1 edge over Gil Frank-directed Kimberly quints in tourney play.

The current Terror team will be an even bigger underdog against Kimberly than was the '56 unit, both because of the away-from-home nature of the assignment and the one-sidedness of the teams' earlier meeting. Kimberly trounced AHS, 74-44, in the season opener—by far the Terror's worst defeat in a 9-10 season. In that one AHS was a badly disorganized crew after the jolting loss of big Ron Abel only three days earlier.

Though none of the current Papermakers played with the '56 team, Coach Frank is using the 3-year-old incident to help alert his charges. He has displayed in the dressing room the Post-Crescent account of that '56 loss to AHS with a hand - printed premonition about avoiding the same pitfall this time.

Fans found it a pleasant change to concentrate on basketball Saturday after having had snow on their minds for the two previous days. Not only were the 1,500 seats filled, but several hundred fans stood for nearly three hours watching the two features. It would have been high impossible to shoe-horn anyone else in, short of using the playing area itself. Two consecutive snow-outs (Thursday and Friday) appear to be some sort score in the first few minutes. I didn't want to see that happen again.

"I'm going after the national championship and the final game of the regular season doesn't take precedence over that. I felt stalling to get Notre Dame out if its tight zone was the only possible way to win down there. If I had to play the game over, I'd do the same thing."

He hinted it was doubtful as such if any more of his teams will play in the Irish gym. He said his team had to wait for more than an hour to get on the floor for practice Friday night and changed clothes in a hall because no locked dressing rooms were available.

On Saturday he and "Moose" Krause, Irish athletic director, got into a hot argument over which basket to shoot at during the first half.

During the game the Marquette bench was showered with paper and Hickey said he was spat upon.

Marquette shot at a 227 clip—by far its poorest of the regular season which ended with 22 victories and 4 losses.

Jim McCoy was high for Marquette with 10 points. Tom Hawkins led Notre Dame with 19 points and finished a 3-year career with a new school record of 1,820 points.

eral conference schools who found Wisconsin's teams tough or easy pickings since Foster succeeded "Doc" Meanwell as Badger coach in 1934.

Foster realized in January that things would not perk up fast when Frank Burks, a sensational freshman, was dropped from school.

"We need new enthusiasm to bring back basketball," he said Sunday. "The only way an oldtimer like myself can get help is by winning and I don't mean just breaking even. I couldn't see us winning big in the next two or three years so the only other solution to create a band wagon effect was for me to step out."

"Things would have been better next season but we're still lacking a good big man. Sure, if Burks had made the grade, it would have been worth hanging around to handle him. But it didn't work out that way."

"When I became convinced that neither of my assistants would be hurt by my action, I decided to ask for other duties in the athletic department. That decision was made only in the last week. I was under no pressure to resign. If I had been, I probably would have reacted as I did last year and fought for my job."

Athletic Director Ivan Williamson has promised a thorough hunt for the best man available to step into Foster's shoes. Rumors already concern "Tippy" Dye of Washington, John Bennington of St. Louis and John Erickson. Foster's assistant—the first he ever had on full-time basis.

Foster's career record is 265 victories and 267 losses. In the Big Ten it's 142-181. He won conference titles in 1941 and 1947 and a slice of the title in 1935. His 1941 team also won the NCAA championship.

UW Boxers Battle To Draw; Wiesner Loses Close Bout

Madison—UW Wisconsin held defending NCAA boxing champion San Jose State to a 4-4 draw Saturday after losing the first three bouts on technical knockouts.

Archie Wilton, 1958 national heavyweight champion, decked Wisconsin's Tom Wiesner in the second round and went on to take a close decision which earned a tie for the California team.

Marshall Rand clinched at least a draw for the Badgers by pounding out a solid decision over Garvin Kelly at 178 pounds.

Wiesner's first he ever had on full-time basis. Foster's career record is 265 victories and 267 losses. In the Big Ten it's 142-181. He won conference titles in 1941 and 1947 and a slice of the title in 1935. His 1941 team also won the NCAA championship.

Win Big 10 Finale Spartans 'Ready' for Tourney, Says Coach

Michigan State, having wrapped up the Big Ten basketball title long before the race ended Saturday night, is all set for the NCAA playoffs.

"We are as ready to go into the NCAA tourney right now as we ever will be and the team feels the same way," said Coach Fordy Anderson after his Spartans closed out with an 84-74 triumph over Iowa.

The victory gave Michigan State a 12-2 record in Big Ten play and an 18-3 mark for the season. The Spartans play in the Mid-East regional at Evanston, Ill., Friday night meeting the winner of the Marquette-Bowling Green game.

Northwestern, Purdue and Michigan were victorious in final games Saturday to finish in a tie for second. All had 8-6 records. Northwestern defeated Illinois, 84-81 at Champaign.

Purdue bumped Ohio State at Columbus, 93-87, and Michigan clipped Minnesota, 68-66 at Ann Arbor. Indiana defeated Wisconsin, 97-71, at Bloomington and finished in a 4-way tie for fifth with Illinois, Iowa and Ohio State.

Bobby James, SMU Star, Dies in Fire

Ruston, La. — Bobby James, the only junior selected on the 1959 All-Southwest conference basketball team, died in a fire at his family home Sunday.

James, a 20-year-old outstanding Southern Methodist University athlete, was to be held today, with six teammates as pallbearers.

James died in the fire after an evening with his fiancée, Miss Sandra Woodward. A June wedding had been planned.

A preliminary investigation indicated the blaze started in a bathroom wall heater and the youth apparently suffocated. Fire Chief James Mabry said.

to be pulled out of a half-dozen snow drifts.

The party spent Thursday night in a farmer's house.

A supreme 2-man effort (Smith and Carl Schwendler) enabled the Vikes to record their highest wrestling finish in at least five years. In a sensational performance for a sophomore, the 210-pound Smith scored three straight pins—the only one in the meet to accomplish it.

Tops Defending Champ

Smith opened by putting away defending champion Jim Seick of Cornell, in 7:07. In the semi-finals, he pinned St. Olaf's Peterson in 3:16. In the finals, with Knox' Art Niehaus needing a win to give his team second place (in a close duel with Carleton) Smith disposed of the Swisher, in 3:38.

Smith is Lawrence's first champ since 1952-3 when Jim Weber won the heavyweight division and Don Reinecke won at 177.

Schwendler, in the 191 class, pinned Carleton's McLanahan in 2 minutes flat. After being himself pinned by Grinnell's Bruce Wildkerson (the tourney runnerup), Schwendler came back an hour later to pin Monmouth's Bill Phillips in 5:14.

Schwendler was behind by one point going into the final minute.

In the consolation finals, Schwendler again was in bad shape with a minute to go but he rallied to win a 4-3 decision.

Cornell ran away with the title, piling up 99 points. Then, in order came Carleton, 50; Knox, 48; Grinnell, 28; Lawrence 23; Ripon, 19; St. Olaf, 13; Beloit, 9; and Monmouth, 5. The meet finished up Sunday due to a transportation delay caused by the snow.

Bearcats Can Clinch NCAA Berth With Win Over St. Louis Five

Bradley Beats Cincinnati, 84-66, as Robertson Hits Just 24; NCS Triumphs

By The Associated Press

Who gets basketball's Oscar? The National Invitation tournament or the NCAA championships?

The question could be answered tonight when Oscar Robertson leads the Cincinnati Bearcats against St. Louis at Cincinnati.

If Cincinnati wins, the Bearcats will be in the NCAA title event as the Missouri Valley conference representative with Texas Christian their first opponent at Lawrence, Kan., Friday. Bradley then would fill the last open spot in the 12-team NIT play opening at New York's Madison Square garden Thursday.

Should St. Louis defeat Cincinnati, the question will be answered at Wichita, Kan., Wednesday with the Braves and Bearcats meeting in a playoff. Cincinnati has a 12-1 conference record and Bradley 12-2 after breaking even in a home-and-home series. St. Louis, already in the NIT, is third at 10-3.

Two brackets were filled in playoff games Saturday. Dartmouth edged Princeton, 69-68, for the right to represent the Ivy league and Bowling Green beat Miami of Ohio, 76-63, to get the nod from the Mid-American conference.

Meantime, DePaul got the jump on the remainder of the NCAA championship field by turning back Portland, 57-56, in a first round game between two at-large selections at Portland. The victory moved DePaul into the Lawrence regional, where the Demons will meet Kansas State. Big Eight champions, Friday.

Here's how other first round play shapes up in NCAA action:

Tuesday at New York — West Virginia vs. Dartmouth; Connecticut vs. Boston university; North Carolina vs. Navy. The winners join St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania in Charlotte, N.C., Friday and Saturday.

Tuesday at Lexington, Ky. — Eastern Kentucky vs. Louisville; Bowling Green at Marquette. The winners move on to Evanston, Ill., Friday and Saturday for the Mid-East regional into which Kentucky and Michigan State drew a bye.

Cincinnati could have settled the Missouri Valley question Saturday but fell before Bradley, 84-66, as Robertson scored only 24 points. His average is 33.6.

Vi Miller's Moves Into Second Place In Valley Pin Test

Menasha — Immel's of Winneconne rolled 2-488 (150 handicap) to take over first place in class C as team division action in the Central Fox Valley Women's Bowling association tournament closed at the Menasha Recreation alleys over the weekend.

The Winneconne team supplanted Compacts of Neenah as class C leader. In the only other change in that division, Menasha Recreation No. 3 tallied 2,341 (165) to cop third place.

Vi Miller's of Appleton bowled 2,510 (87) and Cozy Bar of New London had 2,481 (83) to move into second and fourth, respectively, in class A.

The only change among the top five in class B saw Hilbert Beauty Shop of Hilbert roll into fifth place with a 2,436 (123) total.

The high handicap series was a 603 (10) turned in by Helen Francar of Hortonville and the peak game a 252 (27) by New London's Hazel Herres.

Singles and doubles action begins Saturday at Lakewood Lanes in Neenah and will continue through April 12.

Rockets Down Jays by 4 in Sub-Regional

Neenah began to make a comeback. Tom Stepanski scored on a drive-in and "Rocky" Jersild and Dave Ristau each canned a pair of free throws to cut the score to 57-56 with 3:28 left.

Kuehl put in two free throws at 3:00 and the teams went scoreless until he added another with 1:40 remaining for 60-56.

Cut Margin to One The Jays got back into the scoring column when Ristau posted a free throw with 1:18 left and Jersild scored on a jump shot 17 seconds later for a 60-59 score.

At the 33-second mark, Wilson scored one free throw but missed the next. The Jays speared the rebound but Dave Robinson missed a shot and Neenah's Jon Halverson rebounded.

With 14 seconds to play, Anderson made a brace of free throws to seal the verdict at 63-59. Menasha had a free throw attempt with 10 seconds to play but missed. A wild scramble followed, the ball went out of bounds, it was awarded to the Rockets and they held it there as time ran out.

Anderson Hits 21 Anderson garnered scoring honors with 21 points on nine baskets and three free throws. He was uncanny with his long jump shot and posted six baskets in the first half. Wilson, another junior, scored 18 points, half of his total coming in the third quarter.

Jersild paced the Jays with 16 points on six baskets and four free throws. Stepanski was next with 11.

Wilson and sophomore Felton rebounded well for the Rockets as did Menasha's Ristau.

The Rockets had a good night from the free throw line with 15 successes in 21 tries. They made their first eight attempts and went 6 for 6 in the first half. The Jays had a poorer percentage with 15 for 23.

The only bright spot in Omro's loss to Oshkosh was the shooting of Doug Emerson, who coralled 37 of his club's 44 points.

Oshkosh Coach Ron Nord substituted freely and only guard Tom Peroutky, filling in for ill Bob Bucholtz, of the starters saw any fourth-period action.

The game wasn't very old before it was a certainty that the Fox Valley conference runnerup was going to chalk up its ninth straight win.

The Indians moved to a 17-4 period lead. The score was 31-18 at halftime and 48-28 at the close of three periods.

England Scores 19

Emerson made his 27 points on 11 baskets and five free throws, getting most of his goals on long jump shots. He had 12 of the Foxes' 18 first half points.

Gene England, Jr., son of the former Badger star, led Oshkosh with 19 and Bob Leary added 12. Ten of the 12 Oshkosh boys seeing action had three or more points.

Nelson Wants Bill Changed on Waupaca Court

Will Ask Peterson For Amendment on Jurisdiction Point

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—Gov. Nelson said today he will ask Rep. Richard Peterson, Clintonville, to recall for amendment the bill recently approved by both houses of the state legislature giving the Waupaca county court concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court.

The governor said he will decline to approve the bill as drafted by the Waupaca County Bar association and as endorsed quickly in one of the first acts of the legislature this year.

county court bill at a time when the general reorganization act was being drafted.

The council and the governor feel the county court powers for Waupaca county should be consistent with those suggested for all other county courts in the reorganization proposal which reached the legislature last week after four years of study by a committee of lawyers, judges, law school deans and other experts.

It was not clear at the capitol today whether the bill already passed by the two houses can be recalled under the rules. The governor indicated if it cannot he will veto the bill and ask for the enlarged jurisdiction of the Waupaca county court as proposed in the general reorganization act.

Judge Wendell McHenry, Waupaca, is the Waupaca county judge.

Train Crushes Green Bay Man

Was Last of Three Giving Signals in Switch Operation

Post-Crescent News Service
Green Bay—Myron E. Hurlbut, foreman of a North Western yard switching crew, was killed instantly about 8:35 a.m. today when he was crushed between two cars during a switching operation in the Northern Paper mills wood yard.

Hurlbut, 63, 1271 N. Broadway, was the last of three crew members giving signals in the switching operation which included the engine and 10 cars being backed west around a curve to couple several other cars.

He was last seen by E. T. Slupinski, 1343 Dousman street, middle man in the switching crew who had relayed a "back easy" signal from Hurlbut to the crew member closest to the engine, E. C. Decker, 612 Union court.

No witnesses.

Slupinski told Supt. J. C. Black of the North Western that after receiving the signal from Hurlbut that was the last he saw of him, since the operation was around a curve.

There were no witnesses to the accident in which the victim was pinned between the couplings of two cars.

He said Hurlbut apparently walked back about six feet to make the couple after giving the "back easy" signal to Slupinski.

Appleton Train Passengers; Taken to Green Bay in Mixup

A northbound Chicago and North Western passenger train, which leaves Chicago at 4:10 p.m., carried about 25 Appleton-bound passengers to Green Bay Sunday night. The passengers had to return from Green Bay by way of cabs, friends' cars and a special bus the railroad arranged.

Fred Kurth, Appleton agent for the North Western, said the train passed through Appleton around 9 p.m. Sunday night.

According to Kurth, the mixup was caused when the passenger train had to go on a siding at Appleton Junction to go around a main line freight train, also northbound.

Kurth said the freight was too long to be put on the siding.

During a brief stop, some of the passengers got off but 25 or more went on to Green Bay.

The train arrived in Green Bay around 9:30.

North Western officials, according to several passengers, arranged for a special bus to take passengers back to Appleton.

Miss Ruth Goldbeck, a passenger, said that she had difficulty getting an explanation from railroad workers on the train.

"There was some kind of mixup between the brakeman, the conductor and the engineers," she said. "We waited around the station in Green Bay for a while and the people were quite angry. Several people got together and took a cab back to Appleton. Some called friends for a ride back."

Derek Holliday, a draftsman at the Valley Iron Works, said he took the bus and didn't get back to Appleton until 11:58 p.m.

Teacher Seeks National Job

Jerry Madison to Run for Democratic Committeeman Post

New London—Jerry Madison, English teacher at Washington High school, announced Sunday in Milwaukee during the midwest conference of the Democratic party that he is a candidate for national committeeman.

Madison will retire in March during the state convention as state chairman of the Young Democratic clubs of Wisconsin. The state constitution forbids any state officer from holding more than two terms. He was elected state chairman in 1957 and reelected in 1958.

"It is time the Young Democratic clubs of Wisconsin received national recognition for their efforts. Our strength in the state has tripled within the last two years and we must put this energy to use on a national level," Madison said.

Three men have pleaded guilty of drunken driving, were fined $100 each and had their drivers' licenses revoked for one year.

They are Gerold L. Young, 19, route 2, Shiocton, who appeared in municipal court; Harold Kling, 46, route 2, Hortonville, who appeared before Justice Frank Sinkewicz, Hortonville, and Raymond P. Clark, 32, Oshkosh, who appeared in municipal court in Oshkosh.

State Patrolman A. R. Zabel told Judge Oscar J. Schmieghe he saw Raymond G. Hoier, Jr., 20, route 1, Hortonville, drive past his squad car on Highway 45 on the south side of New London Sunday night.

As Zabel followed Hoier, Young exchanged places at the wheel, the patrolman testified.

Hoier denied charges of drunken driving and driving after his license was revoked. He was jailed when he couldn't post $300 bond, as was Young when he couldn't pay the $100 fine. Hoier's license was revoked last Aug. 19 for drunken driving.

Young tested .19 and Hoier .18 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

In Accident

Kling was arrested by the state traffic patrol about 4 a.m. Thursday on Highway 45 after an accident involving his truck.

Clark was arrested by Oshkosh police at 5:35 p.m. Sunday after his car was involved in an accident with one driven by Mrs. Audrey Meyer, Oshkosh, on S. Park avenue in Oshkosh.

Sen. Proxmire Hires Most Office Workers

83 Employees on Payroll in Half Year,
Average Senate Number Is 10 to 15

BY FRANCES McKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington — Sen. William Proxmire is the top man in the senate so far as number of employees is concerned, with a total of 83 on his payroll during the second half of last year, a reliable senate source has disclosed, adding that 10 or 15 was the average number of employees hired by senators.

This does not mean necessarily that all 83 were on the payroll at one time, but that during the 6-month period following June 30, 83 different persons at one time or another received a check from Uncle Sam for services rendered the senator.

This figure tops his own figure of 65 persons employed by him during the 3-month period commencing April 1, 1958, and 47 employed at one time or another during the 3-month period commencing Jan. 1, 1958.

No salary figures are available for the second half of 1958 as yet but total salaries paid to Proxmire's employees during the first half of 1958 came to $57,803.22, according to the senate report.

Assumed Higher

It is assumed that since he had more employees during the second half of the year, the figure would be even higher, making the yearly pay total well over $100,000.

A look at the report shows that Sen. Jacob Javits of New York is the only man in the senate whose payroll topped that of Proxmire and Javits' half-yearly payroll totalled $63,589.70.

Wisconsin's other senator, Alexander Wiley had a payroll of $39,163.29 for the first six months.

Low man on the totem-pole so far as staff salaries were concerned during the first six months of 1958 was Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, whose office help received a total of $29,880.89 during this period, according to the senate report.

Intricate Method
Senate staff salaries are figured by an inconceivably intricate method involving intricate raises, cost of living, etc. Thus, if a senator puts an employee on for $5 base salary a year, he actually receives $774.73.

However, if a base salary is $10 a year, under the present fantastic figuring, the gross would only be $784.98.

Other examples of the differences between the base and the gross salaries follow — $1,000 base equals $2,744.87 gross; $3,000 base equals $6,308.13; $4,000 base equals $8,192.10; $5,000 base equals $10,041.81; $6,000 base equals $11,709.76; $7,000 base equals $13,344.62.

The way a senator figures out his payroll is this: He is given a certain stipulated amount, based on population of his state, in base salary, which he can divide any way he pleases.

Apparently it is a top-secret what states are allotted because this reporter could not find out Wisconsin's base allotment, either by calling the clerk of the senate, the parliamentarian, the disburser's office or the senators' offices.

Assuming, however, the

Train Strikes Car Stuck on Railroad Tracks

Kaukauna — A southbound Chicago and North Western train hit a car owned by James Erickson, 35, 304 E. Seventh street, at the Gertrude street crossing at 7:15 a.m. today. No one was hurt but the car was damaged extensively.

Erickson's car became stuck in the ruts at the crossing and a crew from the Hietpas Motor company was attempting to pull it free with a wrecker when the train approached.

The crew was forced to unhook the wrecker and leave the car on the tracks.

Set Summer Camp Program

Waupaca — Five weeks of summer camp and two weeks of work camp have been arranged for the new Bethany Home summer camp on Shadow Lake, according to Rev. Ray Paulsen, camp director.

The district Lutheran camp was erected last summer with the aid of volunteer labor from area parishes. There were 16 cabins and a combination dining hall-bath house erected this summer.

The bath house construction was limited to the basement floor, but it will probably be completed this year to furnish a camp hall, according to Rev. Paulsen.

Paulsen, also the director of the Bethany Home for the Aged, reports that final plans are being readied for construction of the new Bethany home. Bids will be let and spring or early summer construction is anticipated.

base were $50,000, if the senator doled it out at the rate of $5 a year, then 10,000 persons would receive an actual cash total salary of $7,747,300. Of course this is an extreme exaggeration—no senator would, or could, employ 10,000 persons at $774.73 per week, but if he did, the cash outlay could reach the multimillion dollar mark legally.

Senator Wiley has not released the names and salaries of persons on his staff. Sen. Proxmire has given out this information on his permanent staff but refused to tell how many temporary employees he has, or how much they get.

His announced office personnel and their annual salaries are: Robert G. Lewis, $14,063; Gerald Bruno, $5,064; Gerald Clark, $8,116; Margaret Collins, $4,838; Charlotte G. Arvin, $6,547; Elizabeth Glenn, $4,838; Jack Harned, $4,851; Janice K. Jensen, $4,612; Mary S. Meegan, $4,160; Nancy Murray, $4,838; Shirley Preston, $4,273; Alger Ross, $5,064; Frederica Rubenstein, $5,064; Miriam Sawislak, $2,116; Nelda Seer, $2,482 and Carlo Zander, $4,160.

The snowbanks may be three feet deep, but at the Lawrence conservatory of music it is spring. Student sap has begun to rise early this year, and takes the form of depositing a canoe in unlikely places. It was on the roof of the conservatory, then it was on the stage of the recital hall, and is apparently scheduled for several other public appearances. Only one unamused by its wandering is the owner, Martin Johnston, right, who ordinarily stores it in the maintenance quarters of the building's basement.

Laird Declares Nepotism Hurts Entire House

Shadow of Scandal Falls on Congress, All Suffer for Few

BY FRANCES McKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington — Recent disclosures of nepotism practiced by a few members of congress have cast a shadow of disrepute on all members, Rep. Melvin R. Laird declared in an interview today.

"Even those of us who do not have any relatives on our payroll, or who do not rent our front porches to ourselves at the expense of the taxpayer are being injured by those remote few who do," the Wisconsin congressman complained. "I have been getting all sorts of mail from my constituents expressing disillusionment and in some cases, bitterness, against congress as a whole."

He deplored the fact that the senate seemed to be getting away scot-free of any scandal, when actually a senator could pad his payroll in a much more extensive manner than house members.

The congressman said he thought the press should explain that a member of the house is limited to eight employees on his staff, while a senator could hire 100 or more. The congressman also is limited to $17,500 in base pay to be distributed among the eight.

Base pay is translated into gross pay by a fantastic book-keeping system involving several types of percentage and actual raises which, for instance, would give a person an income of $774.73 in gross pay per year, if he were put on at $5 base pay per month. "With this system, a senator really could run up his payroll, since there is no limitation on the number of persons he could hire and this results in spending much more of the taxpayers' money than could be done by a single member of the house," Laird said.

He did not defend the practice of nepotism, particularly where the relative did no actual work in the congressman's office, but said that he knew congressmen who practiced nepotism were in the minority, and did not feel that all congressmen should be blamed for it.
